

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS TO CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH

Busse family of over 1500 to hold Centennial July 4

DESCENDANTS of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Busse who came to Elk Grove 100 years ago will celebrate the family's centennial July 4, 1948. The increase in numbers since 1933 is more than 500. There are more than 1500 persons who are either direct descendants or who have married members of the family. The celebration will be held at Mt. Prospect. The service will be in St. Paul Lutheran church, the family gathering upon the adjoining park.

There are other German families who came to America the same year as the Busses. Some of them married into the Busse family. A booklet mentioning the names of all family members, is almost like a directory of older families of the Elk Grove, Wheeling and Schaumburg areas.

ORIGINAL SETTLERS could lay claim to over 1400 grand children—a record which few families can duplicate. The greater part of those families still reside within 10 to 20 miles of the Busse homestead on Algonquin road in Elk Grove township.

THE BUSSES were men of the soil and as a family they are showing their love of the soil by retaining their farms. A number of them are today residing on farms that have been occupied by Busses for 90 to 100 years. Each of the four original sons and each of the two daughters had their own farms. Their great grandchildren are occupying those farms and other farms that have been purchased thru the years. They regard farming as a sacred Busse trust.

The family of Louis Busse, of which Commissioner Busse is a member, has six of the third generation still alive. Other families are not so fortunate.

Henry W. Busse, 91 years old, is the eldest of the Christian Busse family. Other eldest members, each of whom are given a short sketch in the Centennial booklet, are Louis Busse, 85, of the Fred Busse family, who is still active on his farm on Higgins road; Fred Henjes, 85, Arlington Heights; Commissioner William Busse, Mt. Prospect; Mrs. Pauline Rosenwinkel, Forest Park, is the eldest member of the Louise Tonne family, and Fred Busse, of Marengo, of the Henry Busse family.

The story of the Busse family can hardly be separated from the history of Elk Grove township and the village of Mt. Prospect. Its members have held many public offices and taken a leading part in local government.

Also celebrating its centennial this year will be St. John church, which was established three months after the arrival of the Busse family in Elk Grove.

Reverend to recount South American tour at Lutheran festival

Annual festival of the Lutheran Home and Service for the aged, Arlington Heights, will be held on the grounds of the home in Arlington the second Sunday of July, the traditional day of the festival, July 11.

Lutherans of metropolitan Chicago and northern Illinois are invited to attend the festival, an annual event at the home since 1895.

Rev. F. C. Streufert, D. D., St. Louis, Mo., Secretary of Missions of the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, will preach the festival sermon at the divine service at 3 p. m. Dr. Streufert was formerly associated with the Lutheran church, Chicago, which became a member of the old folks home association in 1902, when he assumed the pastorate there.

As Secretary of missions for the Missouri Synod, Dr. Streufert recently completed a 15,000 mile tour of that synod's Latin American mission fields. He spent two months visiting Latin American Lutheran churches and schools in Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Panama, Guatemala, and Mexico. A colorful speaker, Dr. Streufert will entertain the festival audience with accounts of his varied experiences.

Visitors at the festival will find exquisitely made fancy goods on sale again. A sewing group of ladies of St. Peter's church, Arlington Heights, meeting at the home once a week, has spent several months in sewing articles for the booth. Residents of the home and other groups are also making contributions of fancy goods for the sale.

Weather Opens Gates To Swim Pool

Recreation program at park in full swing

The Arlington Heights park district's recreational and swimming program at Recreation and South side parks is expanding rapidly. With the pool now open, hundreds of youngsters are spending afternoons swimming. Handicraft class at the fieldhouse opened its schedule with 20 youngsters and is still growing. Girls activities groups are also planning a full program.

Only black mark on recreation director Vokac's shoulders is the response of south side youngsters to the play setup. Parents are urged to bring their children to the playground in increasing numbers or the counselors will be transferred to the main park.

TIMES for recreation at the south park are 9:30 to 10:30 for boys on Mondays and Wednesdays; and 9:30 to 10:30 for girls Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Boys' baseball and softball teams at Recreation park have been organized into four teams, playing a three round schedule. Two teams from 7th and 8th grade, 6th grade and under to play games with Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Barrington and possibly Skokie.

Class swimming lessons are held from 1:30 to 2:30 Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays with an enrollment of 125 girls and boys to date.

DIVING class instruction will be given from 1:30 to 2:30 Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, directed by Frank Vokac, Mrs. Estenshede will instruct in junior and senior life saving.

A children's play day has been planned for this Saturday, June 26, at 10:00 in the morning. Boys and girls from 4 to 14 years are invited to participate. Prizes will be given winners of contests and games.

Auto collides with hand-car in railroad accident

While driving across the railroad tracks on Central road last Thursday afternoon, George H. Anthony, 20 S. Wapella, Mt. Prospect, was hit by a gasoline hand-car coming along the center track.

Anthony was not injured, although the side of his car was pushed in by the impact. The hand-car is not heavy enough to start the signals, and the railroad employee was not able to stop his car in time because of the slippery rails. His view was obstructed because of the high grass.

Another recent accident resulted from an incorrect left turn. On Saturday afternoon, June 12, car driven by Robert R. Carstens, 1440 Rand road, Des Plaines, who attempted to turn left from Mt. Prospect road onto Northwest highway, hit a car driven by Chas. O. Brown, Elmhurst, Ill. There were no injuries. Carstens claimed he did not see the other car coming.

War veteran asks relief from airport drainage

Mayr Goedke has received a request from a veteran of World War II asking that the village drain his property adjoining Arlington airport so he can raise crops on his land.

He charges that he receives drainage and sewage water from airport property. Cook County highway department has advised him that it cannot do a thing. The deepening of a ditch that would direct the water into Arlington sewage system can not be done without consent of the village.

The mayor is referring the matter to the village board.

Three attorneys and six jurors get a job

Three lawyers had a job at Arlington Heights village hall Wednesday afternoon. Attorney Fred W. Jones was the judge; Attorney Adams represented the plaintiff and Attorney Nichols was the defendant, who was charged with failure to pay a $180 repair bill, resulting from an accident.

Six jurors also had jobs: Fred Niemeyer, Mike Oerlein, Robt. Heinemann, Eddie LaBant, Sr., Fred Tonn and Sylvester Grieschner.

The two plaintiffs won a judgment of $100 and court costs of $85.00. The accident occurred in January.

Parking violators add $116 to village revenue

"The village means business," was the comment from Judge Neumann's traffic court this week as the village police force passed out 116 parking violation tickets to local offenders.

At a charge of $1 for a first offense, village tills were increased $116.

"The sixty-minute parking and no parking signs are up," the judge added, "and the police have been instructed to enforce them. If we're going to try to solve the parking problem in Arlington Heights, citizens must comply with the new rules."

Two ministers and a doctor were among local citizens who were pinched for parking violations this week, which proves that station in life does not make any difference to local police.

"I've always parked my car this way," one minister stated, "but I see now that it's wrong and it won't happen again."

"Incidentally," he commented to the arresting officer, "don't give my name to Paddock."

For the benefit of the two ministers, doctor and other parking offenders, drivers should stay comfortably, and legally, away from fire hydrants, look for and obey time-limit parking signs, and refrain from parking their autos "English style" or left wheels to the curb.

The police court "toll," in fines and lectures, other than parking tickets, Wednesday morning was unusually small compared to other weeks.

Only 11 traffic violators answered charges during the week, and of these only six were local residents. They are:

Andrew Meske, Arlington Hts., fined $15.
Floyd Duzell, RFD, Arlington Heights, no muffler, $3.
Robert Landers, Palatine, speeding on Rte. 14, $3.
Fredrick Lehson, Arlington Crest, $3.

Alfred Lundstrom, Arlington Heights, stop light violation, $3.
Calletano Ramon, Mt. Prospect, no auto license, $20.

Louis Clark, Wheeling township thistle commissioner, is giving a lot of advice that may cost him his job, "but who cares?" says Louis.

On his recommendation more and more farmers are eliminating weeds, thistles and bindweeds by the use of weed killers. Many of the farmers rig up their own contraptions. There are others who do custom work and are available to any person needing the service.

One Wheeling farmer used this method to eradicate a big field of mustard last year. He is so well pleased he is enlarging operations this year. "Farm land is becoming so valuable that I am not having much trouble with that area," says Mr. Clark, but as long as there are subdivisions there will be work for me to do.

"Someday," continues Clark, "the women folks within the village will start a movement to use a similar method to get rid of flies and mosquitoes."

Need rooms for Arlington teachers

Families who can provide a room during the coming school year for an Arlington Heights teacher are urged by Supt. R. E. Clabaugh to make this known by calling his office, Arlington Hts. 465.

It is desirable that such rooms be located within walking distance of one of the schools and also the business district.

There is also an urgent need for apartments or light houses, keeping rooms and places where cooking privileges can be provided for couples without children.

ASKS RETURN OF BORROWED CAMERA
Wednesday afternoon a camera was placed by accident in a wrong car, parked opposite Arlington Heights bank. The camera was borrowed and the owner asks that it be returned to Arlington Heights police station. Thank you.

Girl Scouts 'check in' at Camp Pine

Girl Scouts of Arlington Hts. and Mt. Prospect who attended the first day camp session at Camp Pine last Thursday, are shown above waiting to be checked in and assigned to units.

A naturalist took the group on a hike, pointing out and identifying various plants. The girls also had instruction in first aid and knot-tying and took two hikes, one a nature scavenger

'Waiting at the gate', plaint of swimmers

The mass exodus from Arlington Heights Wednesday afternoon about 1 p. m. may have surprised many local citizens.

The group was converging, not west (toward a nationally famous turf park) but east toward Arlington Heights Recreation park.

More than 600 sweltering youngsters and their mothers decided to "beat the heat" of Arlington's first really hot-weather session, but they found a long queue ahead of them at the gates of the park.

"After standing in line with the kids for two hours, I don't think any of us had the energy to even get near the pool," stated one mother who had waited one hour and thirty-five minutes at the park gates.

Mr. Vokac, swimming director at the park, stated that congestion was due to registering the hopeful swimmers, finding keys and lockers for them, and getting them through the showers.

"We had more than 546 youngsters registered by 2:30 p. m.," he said, "and the line was still almost a block long."

To remedy the situation, he advised that hereafter all youngsters who absolutely cannot swim a stroke be in the pool (not on the grounds) for lessons by 1:30 p. m. All swimmers, pertaining to those who can swim "a little," will then have a chance at the pool and instruction at 2 p. m.

"The new system should work out better," he said. "The only thing we have to solve now is how to help the mothers beat the heat."

Methodist camp ground to open season June 30

The 89th Summer Assembly and Camp Meeting of the Des Plaines Methodist Camp Ground, Des Plaines, will be inaugurated Wednesday evening, June 30, with Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, president Ripon college, Ripon, Wisconsin, the featured speaker for that evening.

The midsummer services will continue until Sunday, July 13, the opening on June 30 being an extension of three days over former years.

While the Camp Ground is open to Methodists and other protestant denominations from May 1 until October 1 for the purpose of retreats, institutes, picnics, gatherings and all summer recreational church activities as well as worship services, the midsummer meetings highlight each season.

Other speakers to be heard at the Camp this year are, Bishop J. Ralph Magee, Sunday, July 13; Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, and Rev. Theodore Potter, Sunday, July 18; Dr. Charles Ray Goff, Thursday evening, July 1; Dr. John W. Holland, Friday evening, July 2; Dr. Weldon E. Bradburn and Dr. J. Richard

School annexation election carries; No opposition

Arlington Heights high school district No. 214 will receive a big boost in valuation and territory as a result of the special annexation election held Saturday. The school board made no campaign, other than a plain statement of the facts involved. The voters of the territory involved in the annexation also made no campaign as the negative votes were almost negligible.

The vote was as follows:

	Yes	No
Arlington Heights	27	2
Village of Wheeling	3	0
Strong School	31	1
Prospect Heights	44	4
Mt. Prospect	5	0
Elk Grove Dist. 59	28	12
School Dist. 61	15	3

'Alert' housewives against green-stamped horse meat

City and county health officials Friday issued a warning to housewives concerning the presence of horse meat in some butcher shops in the county.

Housewives were told to buy only from a reputable dealer and look for the blue government stamp which designates it as inspected beef. Horse meat carries a green stamp when inspected and housewives should be suspicious of any meat with green ink on it.

The law prohibits the sale of horse meat for human consumption.

Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, county health director, said that from 50,000 to 100,000 pounds of horse meat enters the Chicago area weekly and that some of it finds its way to hamburger, chili, sausage and even filet mignons.

Dr. Piszczek explained the reason for the horse meat was the scarcity of beef and its higher price. The danger, he said, is from uninspected horse meat which may contain tape worms and glanders.

Four establishments recently were closed when inspectors found horse meat in stock, according to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago Board of Health. In one case, Mayor Kennelly was asked to revoke the dealer's license.

A city inspector said one restaurateur purchased what he thought were tenderloins for 54 cents a pound and then began to wonder about the low price. He asked the city to inspect the meat and after it was determined it was horse meat, it was destroyed.

Dr. Piszczek explained that horse meat was brought in as dog food and when left in its original form can be easily checked. However, when it is mixed with hamburger or in sausage or chili, it is difficult to determine.

He said the answer would be to require slaughterers to grind up all the bones with the meat. Animals eat bones anyway, but it will stop human consumption.

Arlington firemen inspect Palatine's new fire job

A number of Arlington Heights firemen inspected this week the new 750-gallon pumper that Palatine firemen have received.

"It is some buggy," said more than one of the visitors. It is a seven-cab job with compartments for stretchers and other life-saving paraphernalia.

The first fire call to be received was Wednesday morning when the son of Joe Herr, 122 W. Wood st. awoke to find his mattress on fire.

The General truck had not yet passed the Underwriter's test and one of the older trucks was used.

Cheer hospitalized vets; add to Martin fund

Members of the Arlington Heights Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary went to the Elgin hospital last week Wednesday to take treats to 250 of the hospitalized vets.

The Auxiliary also donated two blankets, bed spread, bed linens, and towels to the John Martin fund.

Business men and Legion combine efforts for streamlined celebration

Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce and Merle Guild Post of the American Legion are assuring the people of Arlington and vicinity that July 4th will not pass by without a celebration. The decision was made Wednesday night when definite assurances were received that a sufficient number of rides and other attractions are available for a streamlined celebration.

Regains consciousness after auto crash to be best man at wedding

Unconscious after an auto collision, an Arlington youth recovered in time to serve as best man at the wedding of his brother Saturday afternoon.

Kirk Gillespie and Stanley Mensching, attendants at the ceremony of Miss Dolores Rasmussen and Wesley Gillespie, were headed for Wheeling when the car driven by Kirk collided with the auto driven by Mrs. Marion T. Snell, of Maywood. Mrs. Snell was traveling north on Elmhurst and Gillespie east on Dundee. The two youths were taken to the Elmhurst hospital where Mensching is still hospitalized with a head gash requiring 22 stitches. The ceremony was delayed an hour until Kirk arrived.

Harold Hastings injured on way to Iowa wedding

A rear wheel blowout Saturday near Iowa City, Iowa, caused the car owned by Harold Hastings, Arlington Heights, to swerve into a culvert and roll down the embankment.

The occupants of the car, which was being driven by John Whiting, consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Whiting and Lois Ann Whiting, all of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Hastings.

Mr. Hastings was the most seriously hurt, suffering a broken collar bone and pelvis bone. Mr. Whiting's back was injured and his wife received severe rib bruises. Mr. Hastings suffered two fractured ribs. Lois Ann received only minor scratches.

All were taken to the University hospital, Iowa City, for treatment. Mrs. Hastings will be hospitalized for two months and will not be able to be moved to an Illinois hospital for at least three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Whiting were released a few days later.

The Hastings and Whiting were enroute to a wedding at Prairie City, Iowa when the accident happened. Lois was the only one who was able to attend the ceremony on Sunday. The Hastings car, a 1941 Olds mobile, was completely demolished. He was fully covered by insurance.

FFA wins merit at state convention for club activities

Five FFA boys from Arlington Heights township high school returned home from Urbana this week after a three-day convention of Future Farmers, brimming with new crop ideas and growing hints.

"We learned a great deal from the speeches and tours about how to secure better farm products," one of the boys stated.

The boys are Marvin Berschet, Ray Wilke and Merlin Schell, each of whom is interested in raising onions; Arnold Busse, interested in raising flowers; and Donald Linneman, studying dairying and swine raising. Donald Linneman and Merlin Schell were official delegates to the meeting. All the boys were accompanied by J. D. Bryson, club adviser at Arlington.

Activities of the three-day meeting June 14, 15 and 16 including electing state officers, conferring of degrees, parliamentary procedure contest, publicity contest, university farm tours, swimming, horseshoe pitching, soft ball, and a speech by the national president.

The Arlington chapter was awarded fourth place in section three for its club activities in Arlington. Section three includes 23 chapters of the 450 chapters in the entire national organization. Since this was Arlington's first year at the convention, the rating was considered quite an accomplishment.

J. D. Bryson remained for three additional days to attend the annual conference of agriculture teachers and special teachers of veterans classes. His barbershop chorus and quartet of "Ag" teachers were a big hit at the banquet.

Mr. Bryson will take a short course in agriculture at the University of Illinois, and will leave Thursday. Marvin Berschet, former FFA member at Arlington high school, will also attend the University of Illinois to fall to study agriculture.

Robert Kingery, Cook county zoning official, presided. The objecting attorneys were asked to file written objections within ten days. The petitioner will have five additional days to file an answer.

Attorney Wild, representing a number of neighboring farmers, also objected. No person present, aside the property, spoke in favor of the change.

Public officials as well as newspaper editors receive anonymous letters. Below is what Elmer F. Laurin, president of Arlington Heights high school board of education thinks about them.

I have received several anonymous letters, one of which is as follows: "Elmer Laurin, if half the things that were charged re. Youth in last week's paper are true, then the School Board is asleep. People are talking and wondering why the school board doesn't know anything about it. We've all known you a long time, Elmer—but we don't like this. Your friends."

To make this reply short, may I say:

1. That I do not count anyone a friend who resorts to the lowest form of communication—an anonymous letter.

2. I am old fashioned enough to believe that the proper time and place to discuss matters pertaining to the Board of Education is in open Board meetings.

3. I believe that I was elected to the Presidency of this Board to see to it that proper facilities were provided whereby a sound high school educational program might be conducted and to see that such a program was continued.

4. I do not consider that I was elected to judge or criticize community morals. In short, the Board of Education recognizes its responsibility for the conduct of students while on school premises or on school sponsored affairs, and not otherwise.

5. I am not worried about our youth half as much as I am concerned about those individuals who indict and try school officials by way of back fences and anonymous letters.

Elmer F. Laurin.

Many object to Wilke road trailer camp

The village of Arlington Heights, neighboring property owners and individual residents appeared Thursday evening at the village hall, voicing objections to a petitioned zoning change that would permit the maintenance of a trailer camp on Wilke road, north of Kirchhoff road. The petitioner said he would operate a model camp with adequate sewage treatment.

Hugo J. Thal objected in behalf of the village and letters were read from neighboring property owners. Individuals present, upon giving their name were permitted to also voice their objections.

Attorney Wild, representing a number of neighboring farmers, also objected. No person present, aside the property, spoke in favor of the change.

Robert Kingery, Cook county zoning official, presided. The objecting attorneys were asked to file written objections within ten days. The petitioner will have five additional days to file an answer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 20, was:
"IS THE UNIVERSE, INCLUDING
MAN, EVOLVED BY ATOMIC FORCE?"

The Golden Text was:
"Though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,) but to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him" (1 Cor. 8: 5, 6).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible:

"O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. . . . The glory of the Lord shall endure forever:
the Lord shall rejoice in his works" (Ps. 104: 24, 31).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Infinite Mind creates and governs all from the mental molecule to infinity. . . . The three great verities of Spirit, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience, filling all space, constituting all Science,—contradict forever the belief that matter can be actual.
These eternal verities reveal primeval existence as the radiant reality of God's creation, in which all that He has made is pronounced by His wisdom good" (pp. 507, 109).

Know The Cause Of Indigestion

by SIEBURG DRUG CO., Inc.

Indigestion is one of the most common of human ailments. An occasional attack may be the result of over indulgence in eating or drinking. Since indigestion is a symptom rather than a disease, when repeated attacks occur you should see a physician. He can locate the cause and recommend treatment.

Until you have removed the cause of indigestion you cannot hope for permanent relief. Selfmedication at best is uncertain.
It can be harmful. Why live in constant discomfort when your physician's advice can help you attain permanent relief.

Buy whatever medicine the physician orders from a pharmacist with a reputation for excellent prescription com-

Instead of the right,
For that's the SAFETY RULE.

Even Mary's lamb can learn that easy safety rule! Best rule of all—for school children and everyone else—is: Don't walk on the highway. But if you must, then walk to the left, facing oncoming cars. Your chances of avoiding accident are three times better when you observe this rule.

Use special care at night and when roads are slippery. Even at moderate driving speeds, motorists often can't see pedestrians in time to stop. At 40 miles an hour, a safe stopping distance may be as much as 164 feet—much more at higher speeds.

200 year old bass viol Mt. Prospect treasure

by ELIZABETH MAHOOD

The violin is the spoiled child of musical instruments. It is given the most tuneful voice in an orchestra. Stories are written of it. Fabulous prices are paid for it. But if the violin is the darling of the musical world, its big brother, the bass viol, is the ugly duckling. It lends depth and grandeur to the orchestra, but let it be heard alone and there are few who will listen long. It booms and squeaks alternately, but its players are as passionately devoted to it as the violinist is to his treasured instrument.

The bass player may sigh a little enviously as he compares his score of ponderous half notes with the scintillating 32nd notes of the violins. Or, when trying to hail a taxi on a rainy night, he may wish he had a flute tucked in his vest pocket instead of his monster companion of wood and strings. But he will never change his loyalty.

Rumor has it that the great Stradivarius used his never-yet-duplicate talents to fashion not only violins, violas, and cellos, but also these giant violins, the bass viols. And experts believe that they are still in existence.

IT MAY WELL be that a local resident, John Van Buskirk of 113 N. Russell street, Mt. Prospect, is the possessor of one of these rare instruments. Mr. Van Buskirk has been principal bass player for the Chicago Opera Company and a member of the Grant Park Symphony Orchestra for the past three years, and before his entry into the Army, was a member of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. He recently accepted a position as first bass player with the Denver Symphony Orchestra.

He acquired this old Italian bass while a student at Lakeview high school, Chicago. It was being used as a practice instrument, and the instructor agreed to sell it to him if he would buy another one to replace it.

While it was being repaired, an inscription was discovered on the inside. It bore the partially obscured name of a New England repairman, Andrew Northampton, Mass., 1779.

An old bass player of 70 years states that he once saw it in Europe when he was a young man, and another saw it in the possession of gypsies in Europe. It was sold to the Chicago schools for ninety dollars by a dealer who brought it from the West Coast.

EXPERTS SAY it was made about 1720, and could conceivably be a Stradivarius bass. They all agree it is one of the finest in the United States.

Mr. Van Buskirk hopes some day to be able to take it to Hills in London, one of the world's most famous appraising firms, and there he should be able to have his question answered once and for all.

While he talked the graceful old violin reined on a modernistic chair, making a picture as widely contrasted as Mozart and Knachaturian. Whatever the origins and secrets of this lady of over 200 years, she would never reveal them.

Canada's Indian Wards

The Canadian government employs 45 medical doctors to watch over the health and welfare of its 136,000 Indian wards scattered over thousands of square miles of Canada's inaccessible back country. # Council members enjoy steak fry at Park Ridge

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twenty-four Council executive board members of N. W. S. Council were guests of Marty Hapeman at his residence in Park Ridge Tuesday evening, June 15, where they enjoyed an outdoor steak fry prepared by Orville Wentz, district chairman of Barrington and at the same time most of the council business on the agenda was disposed of.

Bill Miles, council camping chairman, described his recent trip with Dave Lewis to the National Council President's annual dinner held at Seattle, Wash., pointing out the N. W. S. C. rates very high in the estimation of the national council.

Dave Lewis, council president, was honored by being asked to give a speech on "Parental Contact." The highest honor in Scouting, continued Bill, is the Silver Buffalo award which was presented at the banquet to these scouts for their outstanding contributions in leadership to scouting: Irving Berlin, Belmont Browne, Cherry Logan Emerson, Reuben Brooks Hale, Robert F. Payne, Lord Rowallan M. C. Wade Warren Thayer.

Stan Huntington, scout executive, said that plans for the mess hall at Funk Lake, Wis., outdoor camp are complete, site is located, road practically done, power pole line requested and, well nearly ready for use.

Otto Harz, council camping co-chairman, declared that 30 scouts planted 11,000 trees by machine this spring at Funk Lake and the old buildings are receiving fresh paint.

Al Baker, council camping commissioner, liked the way the activities of the Arrow directed the activities at the camporee held June 11, 12 and 13, at Camp Dan Beard. Two hundred thirty-eight scouts representing 39 patrols from 25 troops participated.

AL WHITTON, council training chairman, showed colorful slides of activities at the Lake Geneva training session. Paul Bunyon's kitchen in which several pounds of pancake flour, many gallons of milk and eggs by the case were mixed in each operation in a concrete mixer,

Jean Cowling and Robert Holmes marry

Miss Jean Valadon Cowling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John

V. Cowling, 101 West Willow road, Prospect Heights, became the bride of Mr. Robert E. Holmes, of Lombard, at an impressive home candlelight service Saturday evening, June 19 at 8:00 o'clock.

The solemn vows of marriage were repeated after Rev. Edwin L. Stevens, who officiated at the ceremony. During the ceremony Miss Lucille Adland, of Congress Park, played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The Cowling home was beautifully decorated with white candles, smilax, carnations, baby breath, white peonies, white gladioli, snap dragons and Easter lilies.

The bride was dressed in white with veil and head band of white roses and stephanotis. She carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Nan Cowling, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Her gown was aqua and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and white snapdragons.

Lois Ann Colley, the bridesmaid, was dressed in pink and carried pink roses and blue delphinium.

Both the maid of honor and bridesmaid wore flowered headbands of sweetpeas and roses.

John Holmes, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. Cowling was dressed in pale pink and white for her daughter's wedding.

Approximately 60 guests attended the wedding reception which was held at the bride's home shortly after the service.

The newlyweds will move into their new apartment in LaGrange immediately following a short honeymoon.

The bride was one of the most popular girls in Prospect Heights' younger set. She was president of the Wheeling Center Achievement club in 1941, represented the community in the annual Township spelling contest in 1941 and was secretary of the local Girl Scout troop during the same year. She is a graduate of the Prospect Heights school and the Arlington Heights Township High, class of 1945.

Dolores Phillips, Vivian Hugo, and Margaret Mecklenburg served as bridesmaids. They also wore lime green taffeta dresses and carried bouquets of yellow daisies and ivy.

Allan Harth, brother of the groom, was best man, with Elmer Kirchhoff, Richard Schaefer and Edward Bubltz acting as ushers.

A reception and supper was held at the Arlington Heights field house, with 300 guests attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Harth are enjoying a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee. They will return about July 3 and make their home with the Herbert Kirchhoffs in Arlington Hts.

Lauretta Stade and Erwin Voelkner marry

At a four o'clock double ring ceremony in Itasca Lutheran church Saturday, June 5, Miss Lauretta Stade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stade, Itasca, became the bride of Erwin Voelkner, son of Rev. K. V. Grotheer read the vows.

Miss Stade was given in marriage by her father. Her bridal gown was of white satin fashioned with sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves and a peplum over the full skirt. The front of the skirt was gathered in three places showing inserts of lace. A tiara of rhinestones held her lace edged full length veil in place. White carnations and lilies-of-the-valley made up her bridal bouquet and she wore a rhinestone lavalier and earrings, which were a gift from the groom.

Attending Miss Stade as maid of honor was her sister, Verna Stade. She was dressed in a coral taffeta gown, styled with ruffled neckline, peplum and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of deep violet carnations, with a matching spray in her hair. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Edward Mollenkamp and Miss Myrtle Stade, sister of the bride, wore gowns of blue and pink taffeta respectively. Two younger sisters of the bride, Linda Lou and Paula Mae, served as junior bridesmaids, and were dressed in green and lilac taffeta gowns respectively. They all carried bouquets of yellow carnations, with matching headpieces, and wore rhinestone chokers, which were a gift from the bride. All the dresses worn by the bridal party, with the exception of Mrs. Mollenkamp's, were made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Elmer Stade.

Diane Stade, another sister of the bride, was the flower girl. Her gown was of yellow taffeta and she carried a basket of yellow rose petals. She also wore a heart locket, which was a gift from the bride. Charles Stade, brother of the bride, served as ring bearer and carried the rings on a satin and lace pillow.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Edgar Voelkner, and acting as ushers were Glenn Wettermann and Edwin Stade.

The bride's mother wore a sheer pink print dress and Mrs. Voelkner was in a blue crepe dress. Both mothers had carnation corsages.

Banked on the church altar were baskets of white peonies surrounded by palms. During the ceremony Miss Nancy Nelson sang "O Perfect Love" and the Lord's Prayer, accompanied at the organ by Miss Ramona Kopal. G. Elbert presided at the organ during the processional and recessional.

Following the ceremony a reception for 300 guests was held at Elk Grove Inn. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of Rosie's Orchestra.

The newlyweds are now honeymooning in Wisconsin and upon their return will make their home in Chicago with the groom's parents.

Three showers were bestowed on the bride prior to her wedding.

It was a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary party given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Madden of Chicago.

A letter written by Nan McCarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McCarty, was read by Burt Wilson, sports announcer, over WIND Monday evening. Nan is quite a Cub fan and wrote Mr. Wilson asking why the players changed their caps, using one kind while at bat and another while out in field. He told her that while at bat they wear hats with a steel band to protect their heads if hit by a pitched ball. When fielding there is no need for this protection so they wear a lighter weight cap.

Jerry Kouzmanoff underwent a tonsillectomy at the St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, June 11. Last Thursday he came down with the mumps. He was quite ill for a few days but is now recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hogreve and son, Duane, are enjoying a two weeks tour of the West. They plan to view the Black Hills, Bad Lands and Yellowstone National Park while gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Greskiwicz attended the wedding reception Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greskiwicz at Mendota, Ill. They were week-end guests of the Leo Greskiwicz family.

Last week Eloy Winkelman and George Gaare spent five days at the University of Illinois where they attended fire school to learn the latest methods in fire protection service. Mr. Winkelman is fire chief and George Gaare is a fireman with the Arlington Heights fire department.

Mrs. Don Stockdale spent last week visiting friends and relatives near Indianapolis, Ind. While gone she also attended the commencement exercises at the Indiana university, Bloomington, Ind., of which she is an alumna.

William Edward Andres II celebrated his third birthday June 15. Thirty guests were present to help him mark the happy occasion. Favors and balloons with drawings and "Happy Birthday Billy" printed on them highlighted the affair, which was completed with birthday refreshments.

Miss Celia Hausman presented her piano pupils in recitals at the field house Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, June 15 and 16.

Visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. L. V. Stephan are Mr. and Mrs. Stephan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Petermann, and her sister, Ruth, who is an instructor at the Oklahoma A & M college. They drove up from their home in Stillwater, Okla., and plan to return via Ft. Dodge, Iowa, where they will visit other relatives.

Judge Neumann's 'take' on 116 traffic cases is a single dollar

First traffic violations in Arlington Heights do not mean a thing in dollars and cents to Judge Neumann. He has tried 116 cases and only one of them was a second offense, netting him the dollar. A recently passed village ordinance sets up the fine and court costs for the first three offenses. After the third violation, the amount assessed is up to the judge.

Appeal for clothing for Goodwill group

An urgent appeal to Chicago area residents for used clothing was made today by R. G. Boyd, executive director of Goodwill Industries, Chicago's unique workshop for the handicapped.

"We are employing 225 disabled persons, many of them severely handicapped," Boyd stated. "We depend upon donations of used, repairable clothing and other items to provide work for these people. A steady stream of used clothing is particularly needed at this time."

Persons in Mt. Prospect wishing to contribute repairable clothing to Goodwill Industries are asked to call Mrs. G. S. Crawford, phone 1066. Mrs. Crawford is the Public Welfare chairman of the Mt. Prospect Woman's club, and as such receives calls for Goodwill pick-ups. The Goodwill truck comes to Mt. Prospect the first Thursday of each month to pick up the articles, and it is necessary that requests to be made before that day so that the proper tickets can be made out. The next regular pick up will be Thursday, July 1.

"Although our most urgent need is clothing," Boyd said, "we accept used furniture, household appliances, toys, and anything else that can be reconditioned and sold."

Goodwill Industries is a non-profit agency, and a member of the Community Fund. Its primary purpose is the rehabilitation of handicapped persons. It employs, trains, and makes useful citizens out of hundreds of crippled, paralytic victims, deaf and dumb, cardiacs, and other workers repair and rebuild the furniture, clothing or other household articles which are donated to Goodwill. The reconditioned articles are then sold

From the police blotter

Six hub caps (four, chrome) and 3 chrome rims are in the possession of a thief this week, after he had stolen them from the cars of two local residents.

Matt Thomas reported two hub caps missing from his auto June 19 at 8:30 a. m. He had parked his car in front of the farm bureau building, Lyman Lloyd of 111 N. Dunton, Arlington Hgts., told police his car was missing four hub caps and 3 rims. He had parked his car on Wing St. close to the theater.

Two other local residents had a common complaint to make to police headquarters. Mrs. Shaw, of 306 Windsor drive, reported a strange car parked in front of the new house next to her home. When investigating Sgt. Karstens arrived on the scene, the car had gone. F. H. Wayman, of 17 S. Evergreen, complained about a green car parked in front of his home 2 or 3 hours on June 17. The call was received by police at 7:30 p. m.

The case of a missing trailer evolved around a call to police on June 19 by a Mr. Jackson, operator of a gas station on U. S. 14, who said he had rented a trailer on May 30 to Alexander Townsley of Big Foot, because the latter wanted to move to the airport. According to Jackson, Townsley failed to return the trailer, and a police check found no one at the airport by that name.

On June 19, a trailer was involved in another police call at 9:29 p. m. Arlington airport officials reported a trailer fire there.

Elizabeth Nichols to attend Girls State

Elizabeth Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nichols of Arlington Heights, and a student at Arlington Heights high school will leave June 27 for MacMurray college campus, Jacksonville, Ill., where she will attend the eighth annual session of Illinois Girls State.

Girls State is a project sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Elizabeth was selected by the Merle Guild Unit as its representative, according to Mrs. Merle Holtz, unit president, and will join the other 319 girls for a week of instruction and recreation.

The purpose of Girls State is to provide citizenship training for girls 15 years of age or older, who have just completed their third year of high school work; to afford them a chance to live together as self-governing citizens; and to inform them about the duties, rights, privileges and responsibilities of American citizenship in order that they may understand and participate in the functioning of their government.

The training is entirely free from partisan propaganda. The names of the two political parties used at Girls State are the "Federalist" and the "Nationalist", while the names of their cities are trees, familiar in Illinois, and the county groups are named for Indian tribes, identified with the early history of Illinois.

Through five Goodwill stores in Chicago to people of limited means, 90% of Goodwill's operating cost is earned in this manner.

Arlington board notes—

Robert Lockwood and David Swift, of Arlington Heights, dropped in at the village board meeting Monday night to say "Hello" to Mayor Goedke and to get acquainted with the aldermen.

Three village officials were not present to meet the two men, who are president and secretary of North Suburban Betterment association.

"However, those of us who are here are glad you could come down," the mayor replied.

The north side representatives stated they wanted to take this opportunity to compliment the board on its action in cutting weeds in that area and on investigating the trailer camp situation.

"YOU'LL BE GLAD to know this, too," the mayor added. "Those pre-fabs up in Arlington Ridge will be moved out for good by July 31."

The three aldermen not present at the meeting missed another interesting scene when a Mr. Rutledge, speaking for 13 property owners on South State road, protested the rezoning of their property from business to residential. He asked that the rezoning law, passed a year ago, be repealed.

"The property owners have already hired an attorney on the situation," he added, "and if the village can't remedy the situation, we intend to file suit and even carry the case to the Supreme Court, if necessary."

According to the property owner, other owners on the South State road lots have owned the land since 1925, investing between $40,000 and $50,000.

IN QUESTIONING the legality of the rezoning ordinance changing the classification of the lots, he asserted that none of the 13 land owners had been notified their property was being rezoned. He also stated the board did not fully consider that the South State road property was better suited to business than residential building.

"Many south and west side residents have to walk nearly a mile to buy a loaf of bread or a bottle of milk," he pointed out. "Good business property and a chance to add to Arlington's commercial area are being wasted by the board's action."

"We can't decide anything officially tonight," Mayor Goedke replied, "because there is no quorum of board members present. On the advice of Attorney Thal, he referred the case to the village board of appeals, which will hold a hearing for Mr. Rutledge to present the case."

Another village problem decided informally at the board session concerned a local resident who is a vendor of humus soil conditioner.

He told the board he was wrongly refused a license by Chief Skoog, and that his business was not a "racket."

AFTER PROMISING that he would bring an analysis of the humus product for official okay, he was told the village would grant him a license to sell the soil conditioner in Arlington Heights.

"However," the mayor added, "if we find you're violating the license, it will be revoked immediately by the village. And we've got some mighty good cells here for lawbreakers."

Scene No. 4 revolved around a "day off" for Village Clerk Davis, Attorney Thal, and Village Treasurer Wm. Meyer who will attend an all-day meeting in Chicago June 29 of the Illinois Public Employees Pension Laws commission.

In the final scene of the evening, Mayor Goedke told the aldermen that, as per usual custom, the village had given permission to a religious group to pitch a tent near Recreation park from July 6 through 18.

"Their representative also invited the board over to hear one of the sermons," he added. "Maybe certain aldermen should heed the call."

Trackless Trolley
An experimental electrical trackless trolley line, 3000 feet long, was tried out in Paris in 1900. In the 1880's a German industrial firm brought out a "trolley wire bus." It was an open wagon which drew power from a cable that ran along an overhead wire. The electric trackless trolley of today is said to be a direct descendant of this ancient vehicle.

Rope 'em in the water — fishing rodeo is on the way

The All-Illinois Fishing Rodeo is underway! More than 4,000 fish—bass, bluegill, crappie, perch, and bullheads—are wearing small aluminum tags; these tags bear a number of corresponding to one of the prizes offered in the contest. All the fishermen has to do is first catch a tagged fish, then take his catch to the nearest certifying station and, if the rules have been complied with, he receives his prize certificate. This certificate will entitle the angler to the award.

It may be an outboard motor, assorted baits, a boat or one of the smaller prizes. Included in the prizes offered by sportsmen, dealers and manufacturers are also numerous cash awards, rods, reels, and fitted tackle, boxes. The size of the fish does not determine the value of the prize. A tiny bluegill may be tagged with an outboard motor. The big bass might only reward its captor with a flashlight. It all depends upon the number in the fish's gill.

The contest officially opened June 15 and will run through September 15 and prizes will be awarded for any of the tagged fish caught during the period of the contest. There are no ties—only one number has been assigned each prize and each fish.

And now—let's go fishing! Here is the list of Illinois waters where the prize fish may be found:

COOK COUNTY—Wolf Lake; Maple Lake; Calumet Lake; Memorial Lake; Dolton Lake.

DUPAGE COUNTY—Ellyn Lake; Prince Lake; Herrick Lake; Churchill Preserve; McDowell Grove; Wheaton Lagoon; DuPage River.

LAKE, McHENRY and KANE COUNTIES—Jacks Channels; Fox River; Grissold Lake; Crooked Lake; Diamond Lake; Lake Zurich; Loom Lake; Bangs Lake; Gages Lake; Grays Lake; Sand Lake; Deep Lake; Round Lake; Long Lake; Cedar Lake; Wooster Lake; Duck Lake.

The All-Illinois Fishing Rodeo is being conducted by the Illinois Department of Conservation with the cooperation of sportsmen's organizations throughout the state; local business houses; and manufacturers of sporting goods and outdoor equipment.

Here's how to budget those vacation trips

Practical methods of computing the travel budget will enable motorists to pare down expenditures encountered when taking a highway vacation trip. Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, announced.

Many motorists are planning their trips more carefully this year because the cost of food, lodging and car operation has risen considerably, Mr. Hayes continued.

Planning on an early morning start is one means of cutting down on soaring vacation costs. An early start permits moderate road speeds which will save as much as 50 per cent in gas and oil consumption. This will also produce the great advantage of adequate time in which to shop around for good accommodations at reasonable prices according to the Chicago Motor club's touring bureau.

Motor club surveys of vacation costs indicate the following as typical for motorists who plan to drive 300 miles daily on highway trips:

	1 person	3 persons
Car operation	$ 5.50	$ 5.50
Lodging	3.00	9.00
Food and refreshments	4.50	13.50

Total $13.00 $28.00

The average price of gasoline is twenty-five cents a gallon including taxes. If a car gets 15 miles per gallon and 300 miles is covered in one day, the cost of gas will amount to $5 a day. Oil consumption will depend upon the condition of the car and the average driving speed. However, it is best to allow fifty cents a day for oil.

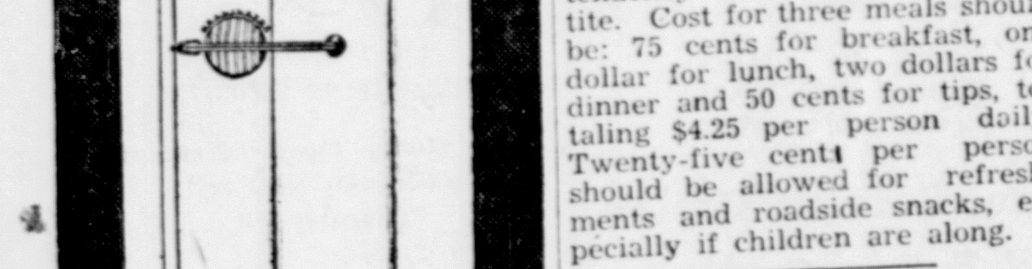

Lodgings will cost, on the average about $3 per person. When staying at a hotel, tourists should figure on 75 cents to $1 for car storage and $1 to $1.50 for tips.

A generous allowance should be made for food because traveling has a tendency to increase the appetite. Cost for three meals should be: 75 cents for breakfast, one dollar for lunch, two dollars for dinner and 50 cents for tips, totaling $4.25 per person daily. Twenty-five cents per person should be allowed for refreshments and roadside snacks, especially if children are along.

TAX FACTS

By George F. Mahlin, Executive Secretary, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Taxpayers were literally "sold down the river" when the Senate of the United States voted a record $640,253,200 for river and harbor and flood control projects for the next fiscal year. That's almost $102 million higher than the amount voted by the House and a quarter of a billion dollars more than the appropriation for such purposes for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Were these projects urgently necessary to the public interest? Senators Styles Bridges, Clyde Reed and Homer Ferguson said: "This bill proposes that we FRUITER AWAY MONEY."

The House Bill, before the increase of $102 million by the Senate, contained construction funds for 40 new construction projects, and the Senate increase added additional new projects that will be under construction for many years before completion.

The bricklayer or the carpenter who is working on one of these new government construction projects can't be building a new home for a veteran at the same time. The steel and pipe and other essential—and scarce—materials used on those new government projects can't also be used by private industry in building homes to help meet the housing shortage.

A motion was made on the floor of the Senate to send the bill back to the Senate Appropriations Committee with directions to eliminate not less than $200 million of the items not urgently necessary.

This motion was defeated by a vote of 55 to 18.

Senator C. Wayland Brooks and Senator Scott W. Lucas from Illinois both voted against this motion—voted against reducing this appropriation.

Senator Lucas, in letters to a number of Illinois taxpayers who had written to him in opposition to this bill, made the following statement: "The only specific item inserted in the bill by the Senate subcommittee on which I have made a detailed investigation is an amount of $1,500,000 for the construction of Keokuk Lock No. 19 in the Mississippi river. On March 12 of this year, the Governor of Illinois wrote me, requesting that an appropriation for this Lock be made. At that time, I looked into the matter and found that funds for the construction of this Lock had not been requested by the President in his budget message to this Congress. Since it has long been the policy of the Appropriation Committees not to appropriate funds for projects which do not have budget estimates, I did not think it was any chance that the Governor's request would be granted. I was very much surprised to find that the Senate subcommittee had inserted the $1,500,000 in the bill without budget approval."

If the Senate, instead of voting a $102 million increase in this appropriation above the House Bill, had voted to reduce federal taxes by $102 million instead, it would have meant a savings to Illinois taxpayers of around $8,875,000. Illinois taxpayers could have paid $1,500,000 for construction of Keokuk Lock No. 19 without "federal aid" and still have had around $7,375,000 left over.

In other words, it is to the best interests of Illinois taxpayers to reduce non-essential federal spending in order to reduce federal taxes, and to take care of Illinois' own needs through state and local governments.

When each Illinois citizen becomes so aroused that he will occasionally, invest a 3c stamp and a few minutes time to write personal letters to his elected representatives, the spending of our country into bankruptcy can be stopped and the future of our country can be protected.

Reunion recalls 100 year story of school

A reunion of former students, teachers, and directors of Grove school, Dundee road, near Northbrook, was held June 20. The program consisted of an opening address by the chairman, Beatrice Bach Lumbard, which was followed by an invocation, welcome, songs, recognition of old time residents, history of school, and a roll call of pupils from 1869 to 1948.

Interesting facts pertaining to the history of the school were given by Clara Lesser Schwab. In her report she found that the earliest records of Grove school dated back to October 1, 1853, when an election of directors of the Northfield Dist. No. 3, as it was then called, was held. Those elected were Isaac Hoffert, Levi Cincote, and Philip Ott.

July 8, 1854, tells of a special meeting called to fill the vacancies of Levi Cincote and Philip Ott. George Miller and Jacob Trier were elected.

MINUTES dated October 8, 1855 tell of a census taken of children under 21 years of age numbering 167. Also on this date the following motion appears: "Every inhabitant sending children to school shall on notice bring for each child that he sends to school, one cord of wood; if not he shall pay for each cord one dollar to the directors for that purpose to buy fire wood."

Expenses include a water bucket, dipper, fence posts and rails, oil or soap, broom, nails, cleaning of school house and teachers salary at $20 per month, plus board.

In 1858 400 feet of lumber was brought from Chicago to build desks. These were hand made, as labor to one Conrad Schulz for making is noted. April 17, 1866 one-eighth acre of land was purchased from George Weber for $18.75. May 29 of that same year a vote was taken to build a new school, 20 votes out of 30 were in favor of the project.

JOHN STRYKER, Otto Freese and Lorenz Koebein were directors of that year. In the beginning of Grove school, classes were held during the four winter months. In 1867 voters agreed to eight months of school, and in 1869 agreed to nine months.

A row of soft maple trees were planted in 1869 on the west, east and south sides of the school house. These trees are still standing.

Attendance recorded in 1860 numbered 33 pupils. In 1863 the attendance had increased to 99 pupils. The first record of District 27, which is the present school's number, is dated 1901.

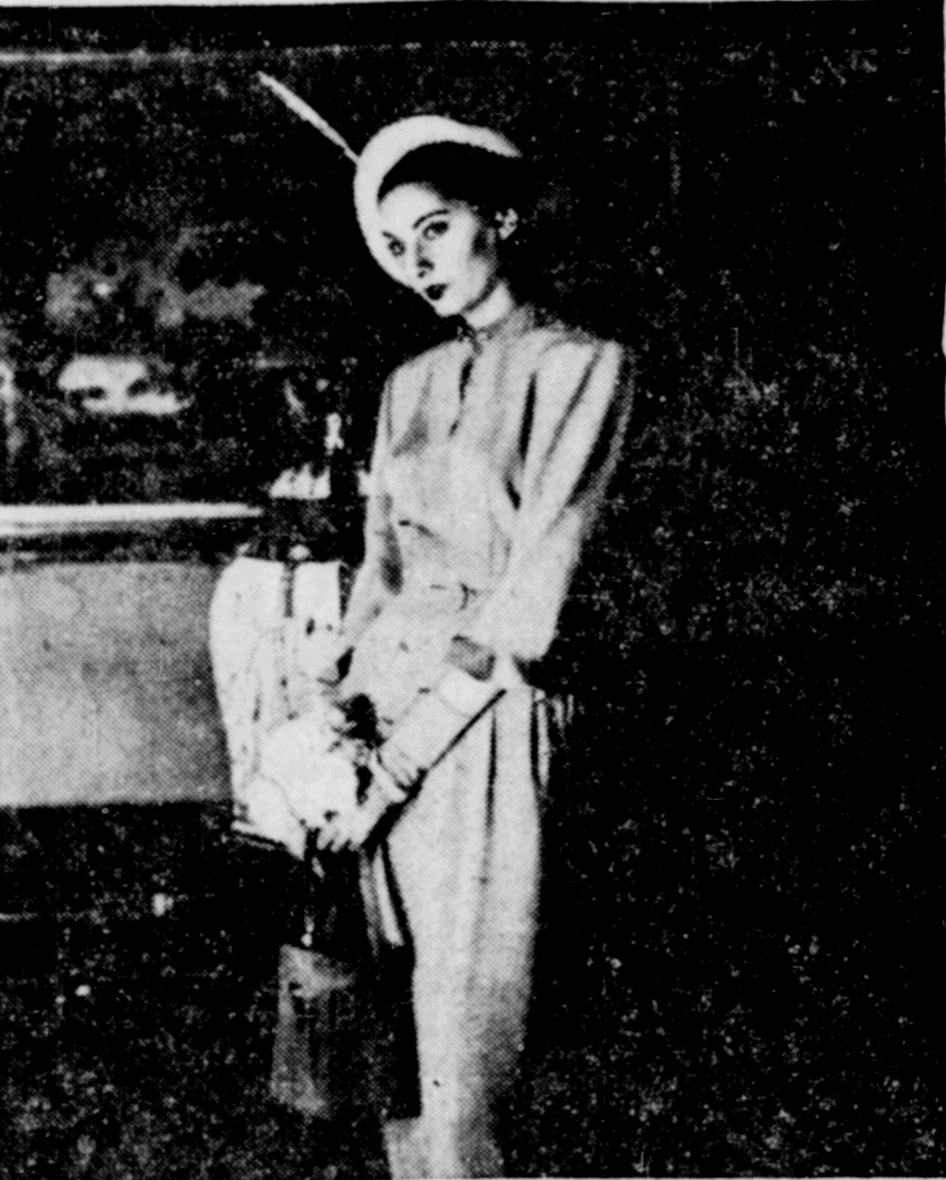

Early health precautions were taken at Grove school as a record dated 1894 shows that 34 pupils were successfully vaccinated.

IN 1930 a strip of land was purchased directly north of the property on the basis of $1500 per acre, compared with the $140 per acre charged when the eighth acre was purchased in 1869.

It was not until 1931 that a two room school was built. This was accomplished by moving the one room school to the back of the property, adding another room and basement. About 74 teachers were in charge of the school from 1854-1948.

The reunion was well attended, having about 150 present. Two long time residents, Mrs. George Plagge, and Mrs. Henry Trier were able to attend. Included in the attendance were five former teachers, Mr. Westbrook, Mrs. Edith Petersen Landwehr, H. J. Wiegand, Mrs. L. Trewin, and Miss Mildred Melzer. Mr. Westbrook took a roll Wheeling Pack Cub Scouts closed their season with a Cub Family picnic on Tuesday evening, June 8, with an attendance of over fifty. They met at the shelter in Pottawatomie woods for a weenie roast supper. After supper the chief attraction was a father-son baseball game in which the Cubs were the victors. Regular meetings of dens and pack will be resumed in September. At that time it will be necessary to enlist at least one or two new den mothers and meeting places. Any parents of Cub Scout age boys who could assist either in leadership or with a den meeting room are asked to volunteer their services at once to Cubmaster Joseph Wenghofer, or Committee Chairman James Tyndall.

A baby girl was the "Father's Day" gift received by Gordon Grandt of Des Plaines. The 7 pound baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Grandt Sunday, June 20, at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. The baby is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grandt of Wheeling.

A wedding anniversary, a birthday and Father's day combined to provide the occasion for a weekend outing for the John Hoffman family. The Hoffmanns were married on June 20th, their daughter, Miss JoAnne Hoffmann, has a birthday on the 20th, which this year was also Father's Day. The Hoffmanns, with their daughter and three sons, John Jr., Jimmie and Tommie left early Saturday on a 400 mile sight seeing jaunt. Their first stop was at White Pines State Park, Dixon, Illinois. They crossed the Mississippi at Maquoketa, Iowa, where they spent the night and visited a State Park. On Sunday they drove to Dubuque, Iowa, where they took in the sights at Crystal Lake Caves, after which they crossed into Wisconsin. Coming back into Illinois they made their last stop at Apple River Canyon State Park. According to plan, their meals with one exception were picnic style out of doors, with the weatherman cooperating perfectly.

Northbrook boy, bit by dog, sues for $50,000 damages

The bite a German Shepherd dog took out of the scalp of five-year old Walter E. Kearns, 2244 Crabtree Lane, Northbrook, is worth $50,000, his father, James S. Kearns, declared Thursday in a suit for damages filed in Superior court against Donald M. Ericson, 122 Briarwood Lane, owner of the dog.

Young Kearns was bitten while at play on June 7 by the dog, Captain Eric of Oldhove. According to the suit, the dog was "accustomed to attack, bite and snap at mankind."

The boy had several stitches taken in his scalp. His father is a former Chicago sports writer. The suit was filed by Attorney Charles Boyle.

Circuit Judge Fisher to decide legality of voting machines

While the county board witnessed a demonstration of the two brands of voting machines on the fifth floor of the county building this week, on the ninth floor Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher also received a demonstration of the voting machines, but he had the task of deciding whether it was legal.

Judge Fisher heard evidence on 2 cases, consolidated for trial purposes. The election board of commissioners seeks a mandamus order to compel the city council to authorize payment of $130,357 due on 100 automatic voting machines already delivered and used in the April primary.

The City has also filed suit asking for a declaratory judgment to declare the automatic voting machine illegal. The city contends the machines do not meet the specifications of the enabling legislation as they (1) do not have labels of the required width (2) do not allow for the voting of split tickets, and (3) the election board had no authority to contract for the machines without the city council approval.

Russell Griffen, representing the Automatic Voting Machine company in Jamestown, N. Y., demonstrated the machine, saying it allowed spaces for nine parties, 30 questions and 540 candidates. He also showed it could be used to register split ballots.

Asked by the judge the differences between the two machines, Griffen admitted that in end results there were none. The Automatic machine has the candidates in a horizontal line and the Shoup in a vertical line, as they appear on the printed ballot.

Re-Seeding Bluegrass Lawns

Re-seeding of established bluegrass lawns is usually a waste of seed and effort. Even a thin stand of old bluegrass plants keeps young grass seedlings from living. If the grass is thin the mower should be set to cut high. Re-seeding is needed only in large bare spots or where it has been injured by a heavy growth of crabgrass.

Equipoise mile heads weekend at Arlington

Fourteen thousand racing fans from the Chicago area were on hand Monday for the first race of the day and season at Arlington Park despite a muggy, showery day.

Attendance was reported as being only 7 per cent less than the count on last year's opening day, which was bright, warm and sunny. Mutuel handle Monday was more than $900,000.

The Arlington racing strip was never in better condition; near record time was hung up by favorite and dark horses all afternoon.

Two popular Chicago owners took the feature races of the day. John March's Mighty Story captured the sixth race at 19 to 1 odds, and Mrs. Emil Denmark's Provocative took the Hyde Park stakes opening feature of the meeting, rewarding his backers with a $19.60 pay-off.

A flock of white ducks languidly swimming about the infield lakes also added a touch of color to the scene, while the view from the stands of the miles of fertile farm lands gave track visitors a view of natural country beauty.

Top line attractions for this week end are the famous Equipoise mile for three-year-olds for a purse of $30,000. The race is scheduled for Saturday, June 26.

On Wednesday, June 30, the Primer stakes at five and one-half furlongs will be the attraction. The race is for two-year-olds and the take is $20,000. Since some of the fastest and most game baby racers in years are quartered at the track this year, the two-year-old features during the meeting are certain to be hotly contested affairs.

Tractor overturns and kills driver

William Watts Jr., 22, of Huntley, employed by K. A. Hoffman, Rd. 1, Dundee, was killed when the tractor he was driving went out of control and overturned. We predict that in a few years all the suburban communities will have a summer program such as that being sponsored by the Leyden Community High School. Down at Franklin Park Sam England, athletic Director, and George Cox and George Bujan, high school coaches, are just getting started on school sponsored community recreation. The program is such that we commend it to other communities.

Leyden high school will have a baseball team playing a schedule throughout the summer and along with it the American Legion is sponsoring a junior team. There are about 30 boys out for the baseball team. Games are scheduled for 6:00 p. m. Softball is booming at the Leyden field. A six team church league is going full blast. A six team community league is organized as is a six team league for boys under 14.

Slate now permits summer high school sports program

Leyden has quite a number of fine tennis courts which provide popular recreation. Basketball backboards are attached to the tennis backstops for basket shooting when the courts are otherwise not in use. A community tennis tournament is being planned and the same goes for horse shoe pitching. Touch football, tumbling, and volleyball are activities which are popular during the day when younger boys report daily for recreation. It is just a start at direction. The state association now allows high school competition and teams to play scheduled during the vacation period. Baseball, tennis, and golf are certainly three sports which schools should sponsor during vacation. Of course a summer

by DAVE TERRILL

Last Sunday Arlington Heights played host at the high school athletic field to over 5,000 people who came to see the 11th annual all-breed dog show held by the Skokie Valley Kennel club.

The best dog in the show was a Kerry Blue Terrier, Ch. Thorn-dale Blue Buddy owned by the Gered Kennels in Glencoe, whose selection was more than favored by those on the sidelines who watched as the judge went down the line of the final six dogs representing the best of all the various groups and breeds of the 1,119 dogs entered.

Among the winners from this area was the well known pointer Ch. Pacemaker of Devon owned by Mrs. Frank Cory of Arlington Heights whose dog ended up as best of breed. Mrs. Cory also entered an Irish Setter Ch. Charles River Color Sergeant and with this dog she also won best of his breed.

From out Palatine way the Chihuahua owner, Tressa Thurmer, ended up with a best of breed ribbon when one of her entries, "Thurmer's Ramona," won the coveted prize.

Also of interest to folks in Arlington Heights was the Frank Cory Memorial Trophy which was given by Dr. and Mrs. Herman Carr of Arlington to the winner of the sporting dog group. The winner by the way was the Labrador Retriever "Ch. Stow-away at Deer Creek," owned by Gerald M. Livingston of New York.

Crystal Lake had best track record in NE conf

Crystal Lake was an early starter, while the local Cardinals finished strong. Lake Forest started fair, but finished last. Thus might read a race tracker's account of nine years of track competition in Northeast conference play.

The McHenry county school won easy victories the first three years of the league's existence, gaining a record lead of 30 points in the spring of 1940. Never again was that margin equalled.

That most conference meets were tight affairs is borne out by the summary of standings in '46 when Niles beat out Leyden by a half point, who in turn nosed out Arlington by another half. In '43, too, Lake Forest won the event by just two points.

ARLINGTON, though three behind in total championships, running second in total points garnered over the nine year span, rated an average of just over third position. Niles pulled a 26 point total, while the Cards rated 28.

Demise of track activities, compared to other conference schools, is proven by a listing of finishes for the Tigers. They ranked no lower than third up to 1945, then finished fifth once, and sixth twice since that time.

NILES, meanwhile, though landing in the cellar in '40 and '41, finished no worse than second on the last four years. Leyden, too, picked up, and landed in the top four beginning with the 1943 season.

That an advanced athletic program, including plenty of competent coaches, pays off in the trophy case, is borne out by a close inspection of the standings.

FOUR SCHOOLS that are well staffed with coaches, Niles, Arlington, Leyden and Crystal Lake have taken the top three spots every time the last four years. Niles has set the best record in this span, garnering two firsts and two seconds.

Munich, Cultural Center Munich, a city of some 800,000 people, is the famed cultural center of Germany. It was badly battered during the war.

Other drivers out gunning for 'big wheel' hot rod

Dick Frazier, the "Big Wheel" of midwest hot rod auto racing, who chalked up 10 consecutive feature victories this season, is definitely the "marked man" in the field of 30 drivers who have enrolled for the second series of Hot Rod auto races, slated for the fast Aurora Downs half-mile track, Friday night.

According to Frank Sess, secretary of the Hurricane Racing association, most of the Illinois and Wisconsin drivers are more than a little "burned up" over the fact that Frazier, better known as the "Hoosier Hot Shot," has invaded their territory and practically stolen the show in recent races at Soldiers Field, Milwaukee and Aurora.

Some of the veteran hot rod chauffeurs have recruited a number of well-known big car drivers and mechanics to help them prepare for Friday's events in an effort to wring out just a few more RPMs out of their "souped-up" jobs. The Erickson Brothers of Elgin, have added Fritz Tegmeier of speedway fame to their pit crew, while Wild Wille Sternquist of Evanston will have the expert knowledge of Leo Krasek, famed racing car builder to call on.

Time trials are slated for 1 p. m. and the first race at 8:15.

Exposition livestock entries close July 1

All entries for open class livestock competition at the Wisconsin Centennial Exposition close July 1.

During the week of August 14-20 Aberdeen Angus, Shorthorn, Hereford, Jersey, Guernsey, and Milking Shorthorn cattle will be shown. Along with these cattle classes Belgian and Clydesdale horses will be on exhibit and all breeds of sheep and dairy goats.

Holstein, Brown Swiss, Ayrshire, and Red Polled cattle will be shown the week of August 21-29. All breeds of swine will also be shown this week with many special breed association awards added to the premiums.

The breed associations of nearly every breed of all the livestock at the Exposition will add to the money awarded by the Exposition. The Exposition is also offering coveted Centennial championships for this "once in a century livestock show."

All junior livestock exhibits will be featured the first week of the Exposition August 7-13. Poultry exhibits will be divided into two shows during the first and second week of the Exposition.

Annual prep classic on this Saturday

Next Saturday is the big day—when thousands of fans, young and old, each with their respective idols, will converge on Wrigley Field for the biggest double-header in Chicago baseball history.

The first game at 1:30 p. m. will be an Oldtimers' game that has attracted nationwide interest. Immediately following will be the third annual All-Star High School Baseball Classic matching the city and suburban stars.

The boys will be selected from the Prep Classic, by the Oldtimers who played in the curtain raiser, to represent Chicago in the annual Hearst National Boys' Championship game on Aug. 26 in New York's Polo grounds. They will judge the boys on their all-around performance that day. The suburban boys won the inaugural game, 6-3. Last year the City lads got even, 4-0.

Among the diamond immortals who will don their uniforms and spikes again are Ray Schalk, Rogers Hornsby, Gabby Hartnett, Freddie Lindstrom, Bob O'Farrell, Tony Piet, Red Faber, Dave Bancroft, Bud Clancy, Jimmy Archer, Snipe Hanson, Ace Calder, Eddie Fallon, Joe Benz, Lefty Sullivan, Jim (Hippo) Vaughan, and Gene Rye.

Choose new coach for Legion baseball team in Arlington

Bob Campbell of Arlington Heights, has been chosen to coach Poole's baseball team, American Legion. The former coach resigned this week.

Campbell is an ex-Navy man and is employed by Arlington Heights public school system, District 25.

A slate of player material has already been lined up, and the community can expect to see some lively ball games. The team this year is out to capture the Illinois state championship.

First game of the season will be in Arlington against Franklin Park Saturday afternoon, June 26. A return engagement at Franklin Park will be played the next day, Sunday, June 27, in the afternoon.

Change in style aids Maywood horse

Another Cinderella horse has been discovered at Maywood Park, popular Chicago magnet for racing fans who thrill to harness racing under lights with the accompaniment of pari-mutuels.

Discarded as a mediocre trotter, a failure with even the slowest class horses in that gait, Brucita's Guy was changed to the pace by his owner Perry Williams, Birmingham, Mich. Today the sleek-appearing, flying-hoofed gelding is the

Bears' rookies strengthen team for fall season

Johnny Lujack, George Connor and Bobby Layne aren't the only newcomers added to the Bears' 1948 roster. Owner-Coach George Halas has signed at least a half dozen other "prize packages" and indications are that the Bears will come up with another excellent "freshman" crop next fall.

One of the top new players lined up for the coming National Football League campaign is Richard Flanagan of Ohio State. A backfield star with the Buckeye Western Conference champs in 1944 as a 17 year old, Flanagan is rated one of the greatest football prospects ever to come out of Ohio by Francis Powers, shrewd gridiron observer of the Chicago Daily News. The youngster is one of two new fullbacks added to the roster.

ANOTHER top flight prospect is Jim Canady, who was a member of the crack University of Texas team last fall. He was one of the most feared halfbacks in the Southwest Conference, and moves up to the Bears with the high recommendation of Blair Cherry, head coach of the Longhorns. Canady, a 9-9 stepper, may be the boy to fill Hugh Gallarneau's big brogans.

Southeastern Conference coaches are glad to see Washington Serini hang up his cleats at the University of Kentucky. He has been a one-man riot down in Dixie for four long seasons. The big tackle will join the Bears when they pitch camp next August, and several rival National Football League clubs already are predicting that Serini will be one of the best new linemen of the year.

Besides Layne and Canady, two other Texas aces have signed with the Bears. They are Joe Billy Baumgardner, rangy halfback, and Max Baumgardner all-Southwest Conference end. Baumgardner, like Canady, will vie for a right halfback post.

Olympic trials at Northwestern July 9-10

One of the finest sports events to be held in the Chicago area in many years will be the Olympic eliminations at Northwestern University's Dyche Stadium track on July 9 and 10. With a trip to the Olympic games at stake the cream of the nation's track and field stars will be at their best. National and possibly world records will fall if the weather and track are right. Tickets are $5.00, good for both days.

Mrs. Luerssen, nee Langhorst, was born November 4, 1870 at Palatine. She was confirmed March 29, 1885 by Rev. Graef at the Palatine Ev. Lutheran church. September 8, 1892 she married Henry W. Luerssen, with Rev. Pfotenhauer of Palatine officiating.

After their marriage the Luerssens made their home for five years in Palatine, moving from there to Tripoli, Iowa, where they lived for eight years. They then made their home for a few years in and around Bloomington and Schaumburg, before moving to Arlington Heights where they lived for 18 years.

Mr. Luerssen preceded his wife in death February 26, 1932, after which Mrs. Luerssen made her home with her children.

She passed away Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Martha White of Mount Prospect, after an extended illness. Besides this daughter she leaves seven other children, Mrs. Ella Segesmann, George, Mrs. Marie Schwants, Mrs. Clara Northcutt, Mrs. Emma Heinberg, Herbert, and Arthur; 18 grandchildren; two great grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Leseberg and Mrs. Ella Meyer.

Baha'i, World Religion

Baha'i teachings declare that only from a world religion can a world commonwealth ever evolve. This world faith upholds the unity of God, recognizes the unity of His prophets, and inculcates the principle of the oneness and wholeness of the human race. It enjoins upon its followers the primary duty of an unfettered search after truth, condemns all manner of prejudice and superstition and insists on compulsory education.

First Poughkeepsie-Albany Service

On October 11, 1851, the Hudson River railroad was completed and opened from Poughkeepsie to Albany, N. Y., making through connection with New York City.

Sage Riders appear at Des Plaines Legion festival

One of the most essential features of the "WLS National Barn Dance," broadcast from the old hayloft of the 8th Street Theatre every Saturday night, or of a barn dance show on a stage or platform, is a band such as the "Sage Riders," who appear on opening night of the 11th Summer Festival of the Des Plaines Post No. 36 of the American Legion, June 30.

The Sage Riders are the fore-runners of six nights of fun and top entertainment offered in the six day run of the Legion festival in the area adjacent to Rand Park. Climax of the event comes July 5 when after a huge fireworks show, the big events are a new 1948 Futuramic Oldsmobile 4-door sedan and a Motorola Television receiver.

Wills filed —

ETTORE STURLINI

The will of Ettore Sturlini, late of Arlington Heights, admitted to probate, puts his $25,000 estate in trust for the support and education of his son, Robert, aged 9. The son is to get the residue of the trust estate when he is 21. The widow gets the home which is in joint tenancy. He died March 22.

ERNEST WAHL

The estate of Ernest C. Wahl, of Chicago, who died intestate April 22, leaving $2,000, has been opened in Probate court. Heirs listed are a brother and sister, two nephews and a niece. Louis Wahl, nephew, Arlington Heights, is one heir.

ANNA BROCKMANN

Anna Kirk and Amanda Buchen, both of Glenview, are two of four heirs who are to divide the $15,000 estate left by their aunt, Mrs. Anna Brockmann, who died in Chicago, March 26. Her will has been admitted to probate.

JOHN MICHEL

John C. Michel, who died in Chicago May 23, left an estimated $24,000 estate according to a Probate court report. His will has just been admitted to probate in Chicago. All but $1,000 in small bequests, is left to a nephew, Frederick D. Michel, of Des Plaines. The latter is also named executor of the will.

BENJAMIN HOBEN

Benjamin H. Hoben, late of Barrington, who died May 1, left his entire estate, estimated worth $80,000 to his sister, Cora Hoben, also of Barrington. She was named executrix of the will when it was admitted to probate last week.

SUES ABOUT WILL

Henry Schuster and Barbara Zervel have filed suit in Circuit court to void the will of their father, J. Schuster, late of Palatine, which left each $10 and gave the rest of his $4,500 estate to his other daughter, Louise Sommerfield and his grandson, Edward Sullivan. The latter are made defendants, also P. L. Behrens, executor of the will. The plaintiffs claim the will is fraudulent and that Schuster was incompetent to make the will when he did and was also influenced by the defendant relatives.

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: Does the Public Law 512—80th Congress—recently signed by President Truman increase subsistence allowance for veterans in full time on-the-job training?

Answer: No. It does increase the allowable ceiling on total income. This means that the old subsistence allowances will continue to be paid as follows:

$65.00 monthly for a veteran without dependents.

$90.00 monthly for a veteran with one dependent.

However, the new ceilings make it possible for a veteran to earn—aside from subsistence allowances:

$145 per month for a veteran without dependents.

$180 per month for a veteran with one dependent.

$200 per month for a veteran with more than one dependent.

The total income of wages and subsistence allowance under Public Law 512—80th Congress—will be:

$210 per month for a veteran without dependents.

$270 per month for a veteran with one dependent.

$290 per month for a veteran with more than one dependent.

Question: Under the new bill in figuring earnings, will overtime pay be counted?

Answer: Overtime pay will not be counted in figuring earnings and all consideration of overtime is eliminated.

Question: When are the new ceilings effective under Public Law 512—80th Congress?

Answer: New ceilings are effective April 1, 1948.

Four other colleges—Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Worcester Technical Institute, University of Missouri, and Massachusetts State College—will send additional staff members to teach the outdoor classes.

The 71 Navy Pier students will be joined by 50 civil engineering students from Urbana and Galesburg. The summer camp will be preceded by three weeks of theory classes to be held at the Chicago Undergraduate Division. The "textbook phase" of the course began June 12 and will continue through July 2.

In the list of honor students for the spring quarter released recently by the registrar of Northern Illinois State Teachers College, there was one from Palatine. The listing includes all students who have at least a "B" average based on the total number of college credits at the close of the spring quarter.

The honor roll numbers 222 students or about 12 per cent of the school's enrollment. The average of students who have transferred from other colleges is based entirely upon their record made at Northern and post-graduates are not included in the listing.

The honor student from Palatine is Mary V. Olles, freshman.

Bits o' business

Cash-ins of series E government bonds during May exceeded purchases for the second consecutive month. Most manufacturers' prices are climbing, thus generating inventory profits for retailers. Department store sales for the final week in May were up 18 per cent from the like period a year ago. Consumers are sustaining the seller's market in many lines of durables. The 1947 U. S. output of shoes and slippers totaled 463 million pair, off 12 per cent from 1946. But the average pair price rose to $3.76 from $3.01. Cotton supplies in the United States might reach the surplus stage this year for the first time since the war. State-owned liquor stores brought 16 states a net profit of $147 million during the 1947 fiscal year. Liquor taxes and licenses imposed by other states brought a total of $412 million in taxes and $70 million in license fees to all the 48 states, according to the Bureau of Census.

Gold Into Mercury

Ancient alchemists dreamed and worked for means of turning quicksilver into gold. Now in atomic ovens, gold is being turned into mercury, a reversal of those ancient dreams. As the gold is not scarce, but a special isotope of mercury is needed, this process becomes of real value. This special mercury 198 emits a wave length of radiation which is an exact spectral line that can be used as a standard measurement. Mercury 198 does not occur in nature. This standard is worth more than gold, says David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission.

Phenothiazine Poisoning

Phenothiazine poisoning is apt to occur when large doses of this worm medicine are given. Because some owners have no conception of the proper amount to give animals, there have been many cases of severe illness due to overdosing. Except in extreme cases, phenothiazine-poisoned swine recover with a minimum of treatment, but they must be kept out of the sun. If left exposed to hot sunshine, most of them will die.

Chicago to regulate comic book sales

A Chicago city council subcommittee has been named to look into the problem of regulating distribution and sale of comic books.

The subcommittee, headed by Ald. John C. Burmeister Jr., 44th ward, will begin study as soon as the corporation counsel's office submits an opinion on the question. Assistant Corporation Counsel Al Gorman, who is preparing the opinion, says it will be based on anti-comic laws in other cities.

High Cost of Weeds

While United States farmers lose three billion dollars annually because of insects and plant diseases, their losses due to weeds run even higher.

Four Year Old Lad Flies Plane

HONOLULU, T. H.—Four and a half year old Peter Gunter, pictured above at the controls, likes to fly with his father, Maynard F. Gunter, in his Ercoupe, and under his father's direction does a pretty good job of flying the ship straight and level, as well as making banks and turns. The plane being a two-control airplane with no rudder pedals to contend with makes it easy for Peter to control the plane. He uses a specially constructed portable seat that is placed beside his father. This brings the young flier up to a comfortable sitting position where he can see out.

Everyone's happy as AEC land squabble is settled in DuPage

Rich reward for the year long agitation against seizure by the Atomic Energy commission of a 3,733 acre tract in southern DuPage county, as site for a research laboratory, is seen in a series of concessions made by the AEC.

Aside from the hazard it was alleged the research lab would set up for DuPage county residents, leading objections had to do with loss of tax return from the large acreage and of recreation areas that are enclosed in the converted tract.

These latter objections have been more than wiped out by the government agency agreeing to pay the county $10,331 a year in lieu of tax money (school, road and county) that is being lost in the conversion.

Next, the Rocky Glen and Signal Hill forest preserves, part of the seized area, will be leased back to the county for continued use on the same basis for $1 a year. It had been contended both would be lost.

Final and perhaps greatest concession was that of including in the lease-back deal an additional 34 acre section connecting the above two preserves, west of route 83. This establishes for the forest preserves a mile-long frontage on the Des Plaines river.

sel streamliner fleet, and the original Galena & Chicago Union wooden depot dwarfed by the present North Western station at Canal and Madison streets in Chicago.

Included in the history is a descriptive list of the vacation areas served by the North Western and a map of the present routes of Chicago's pioneer railroad.

North Western booklet traces expansion of midwest and Chicago

Did you know that the cupola on railroad cabooses was the invention of T. B. Watson, a North Western conductor, and was first installed on a North Western car?

Did you know that the first steel rail made in America was rolled in North Chicago, in 1865 and was placed in service on the Chicago and North Western Railway?

These, and many other interesting historical facts are contained in a new booklet on the Midwest's pioneer railroad. Written by F. V. Koval, assistant to the president of the North Western, the pamphlet is entitled "A Pioneering Railroad—Its First Century."

Tracing the growth of the North Western from its beginning as the old Galena & Chicago Union railroad, the booklet describes vividly how the coming of the iron horse to the Midwestern prairie served as the impetus for a tremendous economic and social expansion.

Not only did the prairie states flourish as the steel rails pushed Westward, but towns which had been nothing but cross-roads trading posts mushroomed almost overnight into vigorous cities. This was particularly true of Chicago, which Koval writes, was in 1848 no more than "a dirty, uninspiring and overgrown village of a little more than 3,000 souls."

The coming of the railroad, however, started Chicago on its way to becoming the grain and livestock trading center of the world, and the transportation capital of the nation.

The history describes how the North Western has served Midwestern agriculture from the day in 1848 that the log-burning "Pioneer" hauled the first sacks of grain and the first load of hides into Chicago up to 1947, when

Polio exhibit opened

A new public education offensive in the fight against infantile paralysis was opened with the completion of a polio exhibit at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. Developed and built by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and its Cook county chapter for the museum, the exhibit will give the public a basic understanding of virus diseases in general, specific information on the various types of polio, its effects, treatment and a review of what the Foundation is achieving in its efforts to stamp out the dreaded disease. With the beginning of summer and the fears of polio it brings to parents, the exhibit's opening is especially timely.

Using the most advanced ideas in display techniques, including visitor operation, the exhibit utilizes motion pictures, electron micrographs, microscope slides, animated models and modern art to lift the curtain of mystery and fear the public has associated with polio. A life-size transparent human figure with moving lights traces the path traveled by infection and shows parts of the body affected by the various types of polio.

Sparks from freight train set fire to Itasca water tank

Itasca had a little excitement Monday when sparks from a passing freight locomotive set fire to the roof of the water tank. The bucket brigade soon extinguished the blaze. The mill tower and porch surrounding the tank were kept from burning until the roof fell into the water.

Fortunately the wind was not strong and no other buildings caught fire.

The question brought before citizens again is: Do we need any fire protection? This is a question our city fathers should give grave consideration.

Roselle Park club to sponsor Fourth of July celebration

Roselle Park club has arranged to have the grandest Fourth of July celebration this year ever held at Roselle. There will be horse races, bicycle races, games and sports of all kinds. The Turbick band of 10 pieces will furnish popular music, and the whole affair will be completed with a display of fireworks at night. Dance tickets are 75 cents.

Bensenville Baseball club holds third annual picnic

Bensenville Giants Baseball club will give their third annual picnic in Central park pavilion, Bensenville, Saturday, June 20. Music will be by a first class Chicago orchestra. Sports and all kinds of games will be available, and refreshments of all kinds will be served on the grounds. Tickets are 50 cents. Ladies are invited free.

Special Notice to Farmers

I wish to call your attention to the fact that dealers are selling Dried Brewers' grains at $20 per ton, which leaves a fair profit to them.

I also wish to state that Dried Brewers' Grains are 3 to 4 dollars cheaper per ton than Bran. John C. Hattendorf

Palatine high school alumni banquet set for this Friday

The alumni of our high school will hold their annual banquet and reception this Friday evening. Owing to the death of its president last year, it will be two years since the last affair.

The classes of 1907 and 1908 will be welcomed into the association at this time. The financial committee reports that unusual interest in this year's event is manifested by the members and they look for a larger attendance than several years.

Toasts will be responded to as follows, with Miss Alma Bicknack serving as toastmistress:

Our alumni, Wm. Kurland; Class of 1907, John Godknecht, Class of 1908, Hattie Comfort, and Mirth Cure, Rev. G. S. Young.

Arlington Heights Concordia band gets new conductor

Concordia band, Arlington Heights, has made rapid progress since it was organized about two years ago, but especially since they have secured that peerless instructor, Prof. N. W. Seers.

They enchanted the public with their well-rendered patriotic airs on Decoration day, and the G.A.R. members desire the Herald to express their sincere thanks for the lively music so generously furnished that day.

They played hymns and classical music for the missionfest Sunday. Keep it up boys, your music is highly appreciated.

News of North Northfield

Ed Witt, of Libertyville, spent Sunday at Northfield. G. J. Baxman has been serving on jury the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Koebelin spent Sunday in Chicago. Mrs. G. Gutzler of Highwood, Ill., spent Sunday at Northfield.

Rev. F. J. Eggestein left for Europe last week where he will spend the summer with relatives and friends. Some of our Northfield girls are quite angry that the Wheeling girls are taking advantage of Leap Year by calling on some of the young men of Northfield.

Large crowd sees exercises at 1908 Pal. commencement

Those who attended the commencement exercises of our high school Friday evening were indeed fortunate. They not only heard excellent orations by the graduates, but had the privilege of listening to an address by Hon. C. S. Cutting.

The class was small in number, but the interest of the citizens and the quality of the program were such as to put the 1908 commencement down in the school annals as one of the most successful.

After the invocation by Rev. Young, William Babcock spoke on "The Young Man and His Present Opportunities," comparing the past with the present, and speaking of the chance the boy of today has to make his way to the top rung of success.

Mr. Cutting's regard for Palatine and its high school, of which he was principal and sent out the first class 27 years ago, is unquestioned.

Arlington school pupils to present Japanese play

"Mitsu-Yu-Nissi," or The Japanese Wedding, is the name of a play to be given by pupils of the public school in the vacant room of the new school building, Tuesday evening, June 23, and Saturday evening, June 27, at 8 p. m.

Tickets can be obtained from Misses Mac Miller and Ruth Gamble, or John Taylor. All seats are reserved, and admission is 25 cents. The play will last about two hours.

Paints ??

Right now is the time you are looking for Paints, and right now is the time you should think about the kind of paint you buy.

There is as much difference in paints as there is in the weather. Cheap paint which contains poor, adulterated lead is costly.

We handle the celebrated Heath, Milligan and Senour FLOOR PAINT W. H. Brockway Palatine, Ill.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

Of one thing I am sure: there is no faster way to get the children out of bed these lazy vacation days, than to announce a new birth at the farm. Rob did just that on June 13 at a rather early hour in the morning. "Bonnie's had her colt!" They are standing in the lane!" One would have thought the house afire for instantly coverlets were thrown back and everyone was reaching for clothes. Jack, George and Ed joined Rob out of doors in nothing flat, and even I gave up the luxury of an extra wink or two to don jeans and sweater, to meet them all at the barn.

As I dressed I glanced out the window and saw Bonnie quietly standing, her head inclined toward her first baby. The ponies, Pat and Mike, were there too, but they knew better than to come too close to Bonnie's colt. I watched Jack approach his horse, stretch out his hand to pat her head, no doubt assuring her that his intentions were only the best.

When I entered the barn I found Bonnie and the colt already assigned to the warmth and cleanliness of the "maternity stall." Rob and the boys were standing outside the barriers, looking in. "It's a filly, and a darn nice one," Jack announced. I was somewhat taken aback for it showed none of its mother's bay coloring, but rather is a palomino, exactly like its father. It has a pure white star on its head, and a curly white mane and tail. Jack had always wished for a bay with a light mane and tail, but he's quite nappy, he says, to settle for Kate.

George thought Pal, a shortening for Palomino, would be a suitable name, but Jack has a fondness for Irish names, and since this is his own mare's first colt, we think he should have the privilege of naming it: so Kate it is, and a right cute name, I think.

Yesterday, when Kate was but

24 hours old, Jack mounted Bonnie, and rode out of the barn to the yard. It was the sweetest sight! The little one walked quite close to its mother, just as if it had been doing so for some time. We were impressed with its performance, and the "oh's" and "ah's" were many. Bonnie was eager to nuzzle at the fresh grass, but she kept a watchful eye on her offspring. It wasn't long before Kate felt her own confidence, and galloped around the house afire for instantly coverlets were thrown back and everyone was reaching for clothes. Jack, George and Ed joined Rob out of doors in nothing flat, and even I gave up the luxury of an extra wink or two to don jeans and sweater, to meet them all at the barn.

Rob got his old box camera, and took several pictures. Dinner was about ready for the table, but I couldn't resist staying outdoors with our animal family. The ponies seemed to know that something unusual was taking place, and they came down the lane from the pasture, and stretched their strong heads over the fence in order to see everything. Laddie and Lassie were also inquisitive, especially Laddie, who seemed to act as if he thought this a new and strange kind of dog. He couldn't approach very near without an indication from Bonnie that meant his presence wasn't exactly welcomed. Only Daisy June and Clementine, and Butch, the young calf, were contented to remain in the nearby field, quietly chewing their cud.

I wish I were clever and could sketch these animals as I see them. They make such interesting pictures as they live each day here at the farm. Of course, animals require care, but so little, when one considers the great pleasure they afford in return. And there is a gentleness about these animals that constantly surprises me. I had to learn this for I must admit, I stood pretty much in awe of horses before we moved to the farm. I have noticed, though, that animals raised from birth, if given good and kindly treatment, respond in like manner. And every time I see George leading Clementine, that huge offspring of a Durham bull, and witness my own son stop to throw his arm around her neck and lay his head near her horns to whisper secrets I shall never share, I am sure once again that this is the "good life."

The state veterinarian, who comes regularly to test the cows, recently asked: "How old is she?" inquiring about Daisy June. "Oh, about 15 or 16 years old," replied Rob, casually. "You're losing money on her," was his sharp reply. "Oh, I wouldn't say that," Rob answered, and didn't bother to go into the details about the rich, Jersey cream she gives us for our freshly churned butter, and all the milk the children can drink. "You see, she's a pet, and it's my guess, she'll end her days right here on the farm. No sausage factory for this old gal, no siree," my husband added.

And now I must close. Jack is ready to take Bonnie and Kate out to the pasture, and I don't want to miss seeing them leave the barnyard.

With love, Mary.

GREEN BENCHES

Have you seen them?—the sensation of the town, those green benches in front of the LaLonde, Steinbrink and DePue real estate offices?

Yes, they're all for you, the general public, when you get tired of tramping around town and want to flop down and rest for a few minutes (or longer).

The idea originated last year when Roy LaLonde brought it up at a Lions meeting, only to be greeted with laughs. Maybe Bill DePue and E. P. Steinbrink were the only ones who took the idea seriously. Anyway, the benches arrived last week, and here they are.

Fred Oswald says if someone will donate an old blast stove and a sawdust-filled garbion, we'll really be back to the good old days.

THE RED WINGS

We saw our first Red Wing baseball game a couple of weeks ago when the boys lost to Oak Park 8 to 7.

The Red Wings have a different line-up this year, but they're still the same Redwings, brilliant in spots, awful in others, colorful always. We can't recall when we've seen two home runs that cleared the bases (one by each team) in a single game and we never did see a play called off because of two balls on the field.

Yes, there's always colorful baseball at Red Wing games, and old George Schaeffer, veteran of many seasons, was in there pitching all the way. That George never does seem to grow old; season after season he proves that youngsters really have to have something before they can put him on the bench.

The real games of the season are just starting. There will be plenty of baseball at Recreation park this summer—all kinds of baseball.

GROWING TOWN

A fellow who hadn't seen Palatine since the big building boom visited here Sunday. He is Orla Sawyer, former Palatine boy and Palatine high school graduate.

He said when he got off the train from Chicago, he had to stop to get his bearings before heading for where he was going. Now if that new depot had been there, he surely would have been surprised at the changes in his old home town.

WHERE'S THE BUNNY

The Arlington Park race meeting is on and we haven't seen Bunny Rich for weeks.

"Bunny," you remember was the guy who burst into the coffee club one day this spring with a "system" to smash the mutuels at Arlington Park. But the meeting is on, and no sign of Bunny or his system. We have heard from reliable sources that after burning the midnight electricity in pouring over those hundreds of thousands of charts, he's found to his sorrow that all is not gold that glitters.

At one stage of the game, he was $9,000 ahead (on paper), but at the finish he was in the hole (also on paper), so away went the system, and if Bunny goes to the track this season, he no doubt will be just one of the gang, trying to pick a winner any old way that such a feat is possible.

WHO SETS VALUATIONS

There seem to be numerous opinions as to who sets property valuations and how the size of the tax bill is arrived at.

The local assessor, with the help of his advisory committee, sets land values only, and sometimes those values are changed by the county assessor. The latter's office fixes the value of improvements on property, houses, garage, barns, chicken houses, stock barns, and the like.

After that, the county assessor's office places a value on the entire property and the state board of revenue reviews the entire assessment. For 1947, the state board thought Cook county valuations too low and ordered all valuations multiplied by 1.26. The year before that, all county assessor valuations were multiplied by 1.59.

The figure set by the state revenue board is the final valuation upon which taxes are levied. The county clerk takes all the taxing bodies in that area and figures out what the tax rate must be to get the amounts levied by the taxing bodies.

If the valuations are high, the tax rate will be low, and vice versa. The money must be found to meet those levies, regardless of valuations.

A false idea often heard is that a local "politician," tax collector, mayor, or assessor has caused someone's taxes to be raised. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Cook county treasurer Louis Nelson had so many complaints about high taxes this year (over which he has absolutely no control) that he was forced to announce through the press that his office would be unable to answer any more complaints.

Local collectors also had thousands of complaints, personally and by mail, and they, too, have no control over valuations or tax levies. The only way to understand why or what makes a tax bill high is to study the elements that make up that bill.

Go to a school board budget hearing, a village board meeting, etc., and see for yourself what it costs to run local government.

"DRY SHOWERS"

Last week those dry showers Barney Stein was talking about seemed to be the only kind we could get. The weather clouded up repeatedly, acting as if it would pour, but it wound up with a little drizzle that failed to do any good.

Lawns and parks looked like August since the big building boom visited here Sunday. He is Orla Sawyer, former Palatine boy and Palatine high school graduate.

He said when he got off the train from Chicago, he had to stop to get his bearings before heading for where he was going. Now if that new depot had been there, he surely would have been surprised at the changes in his old home town.

THE RACES

Arlington Park's great race meeting is on and anyone wanting to secure a pass for the big show probably could get one at the office of Mayor DePue or Roy LaLonde. We've seen a pile of them on both those fellows' desks, both for grand stand and club house.

Of course, there's a service charge of 90 cents per person on the grand stand, and $1.50 per capita on club house tickets. But if anyone wants one, the boys have quite a stack, and they can't use 'em all themselves.

COTTON SNOW

Some of those cold raw days last week almost convinced a person it was snowing when he saw all the big white flakes flying through the air and blowing down the streets.

Yes, those cottonwoods surely were throwing off the white stuff this year, and it was so thick in some places that it really did resemble a young snowstorm.

HOMESPUN PHILOSOPHY

"Have you ever visited the mountains, Mr. Bauman?" asked a friend.

"No, I haven't," was the reply. "You should, my friend. Go to Denver, and take the Rio Grande railroad through the Moffat Tunnel. The scenery is magnificent—beautiful and breathtaking. Just like Holiday magazine says."

Mr. Bauman lit his pipe and settled himself comfortably while waiting for the milk truck.

"In my business one stays with or quits entirely. Livestock and the land demand continual care," he said. "You manage short trips then?" I asked.

"Yes, I've been to Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana. In that area there is approximately 13 inches of soil; the rest is stone. In some places a living is secured from the stone. I can't understand how people can be around so much limestone. It covers the houses in some localities."

"Hereabout we have 170 feet of earth before stone. Beautiful trees in Palatine, and I can get all the scenery I want in the woods. Along Brinker road, there isn't a prettier spot in the whole world."

"I wouldn't trade my little farm for anything I have seen so far."

Teen-agers take the stand and reply to worried parent

TEENERS RESPONSIBILITY

In answer to the letter written by the mother of a teen-age boy, it seems that certain parents in Arlington Heights are bringing up issues that have long been dead and buried. How did the mother of this teen-age boy get all her information unless her boy attended these "thrill mad" parties. Since these parties have long since stopped, why bring up the matter again? If this mother didn't get her information from her son then it must be based on highly magnified rumors.

Why does this mother insist that all the blame be placed on the girl? Doesn't the boy have any backbone as to what time he has to get in? Certainly any decent girl isn't going to object to what time her date must be home. She has certain hours to keep herself.

As to the Prom, which is a special event to all high school students, the hours which the teen-agers must keep are understood between the parents and the students beforehand. The prom parties usually consist of the prom and a picnic the following day instead of an all night escapade.

All parents should realize that times have changed and that teen-agers now days have more responsibility and they are accepting it, knowing that they are trusted by their parents. It is only the narrow-minded, old-fashioned adults who are inclined to believe these rumors and think the worst. As far as Marijuana cigarettes are concerned, smoking them is a Federal offense and the offenders were taken care of by the law. This handful of students consisted of no more than half a dozen.

Has this mother sufficient proof that high school girls are allowed to stay out all night and drink? It seems to us that any boy of good standing would not want to associate with such girls and therefore it would not be fair for him to "stay in line." If these narrow-minded parents continue to try to break down the trust built up between the parents and today's teen-agers, more of these activities will be inclined to spring up. With this attitude what will the situation be in years to come?

YOUTH LIBERTIES

Congratulations for printing the truth about youth liberties in last week's paper. The facts were known all about town, and it isn't healthy to keep up a hush hush attitude. The only way it can be cleaned up is to bring it out in the open.

I suggest that if the parents of these boys and girls continue to allow them uncalled for liberties, they be charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency and fined to the fullest extent of the law. If necessary, a curfew should be put into effect.

An increase in rates for telephone service in Park Ridge and Des Plaines was granted last week to the Middle States Tele-

Before the new rates take effect, the commission decreed, the company must exhibit signed contracts for construction of a new central exchange building, and for installation of dial service.

Seek to end city garbage dump

The odor of Chicago's garbage from the Lutter clay hole north of Glenview, has traveled as far as Washington, D. C. Top ranking officers of the U. S. Navy department are now aware of the health menace and nuisance located close to the Glenview Naval Air station.

Meantime the public service committee of the County Board of Commissioners adopted the report of Dr. Edward Piszczek, head of Cook County's Health department. This report recommends that all Cook county dumps be forced to use a sanitary fill to keep garbage covered and that all garbage, including that already dumped in the clay hole, be covered with two feet of earth.

A house-to-house canvass for contributions to the "Stop the garbage dump fund" is proceeding in the Glenview area.

Dr. Piszczek stated at a meeting of the Glenview Health council this week that he had made a recent inspection of the dump and that flies are breeding in appalling numbers. He advised immediate treatment of the dump area with DDT to kill the disease carrying insects.

A.M.A. session

Doctor Ward's Notebook

Each year about convention time medical men gather from all over the United States and many foreign countries to discuss new discoveries, renew old acquaintances, and carry home samples to be stored in an already over-loaded medicine chest. The 97th Annual Session of the American Medical Association, sprawling through the mile-long Navy Pier and the numerous conference rooms and ball rooms of the downtown hotels provides a panoramic view of the medical advances made in this country during the past year. There is no question but what the numerous papers and displays are authentic representations of the finest in medical thought today.

An important contribution to the treatment of tuberculosis is on display, the Lung Immobilizing Chamber. Through the use of this special kind of iron lung, the oxygen-carbon dioxide exchange in the lungs is accomplished without the effort of breathing by the patient. Thus the organs of respiration are kept at rest and healing is facilitated. The use of this machine materially shortens the length of time required for the arrest of pulmonary tuberculosis.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN HISTORY, surgical operations and clinics have been televised. Through a special wave length hook-up with Passavant Hospital a large and varied program is being presented to medical audiences at the Pied and the Sheraton Hotel. Some one suggested that the commercial channels be used in the interest of Alcoholics Anonymous: the toper who looks up from his shot-and-beer to see how the wrestling match is coming only to find he is staring into an abdominal incision would be on the wagon a long, long time!

The development of germicidal lamps for controlling air-borne infection shows promise for treatment of school rooms and other gathering places where upper respiratory infections are passed from one to another.

It was rather startling to see two boys about 11 or 12 running around in short pants. Both were wearing full length artificial legs.

THE PLASTIC SURGERY exhibits revealed striking advances in this field the past few years. Moulages that looked as though they could speak were used to demonstrate new techniques of manufacturing ears, noses, mouths, and other body parts. The photographs of dash board injuries and their repair were grim reminders of our national bad habit of reckless driving.

THE HYPOSPRAY, a gadget which painlessly injects drugs under the skin, will probably be on the market in the near future. Despite a number of disadvantages, there is promise that this instrument will be valuable in treating children and in administering such medicines as insulin and penicillin which may be administered over a long period of time.

A NEW CADILLAC COUPE will be given the lucky M. D. whose name is drawn Thursday evening. From the looks of the parking lots, this is a favorite car with the visiting doctors. . . . Coca cola, not to be outdone, was giving away tokens by the score.

As usual, the showing of oils, watercolors, sketches, sculpture, and handwork done during doctors' spare time—if any—was remarkable. Many of these men have a great deal of talent and could have succeeded in these other fields if they had become artists. Art provides an excellent outlet for the tension and pressure which accumulate as a result of the responsibility of practicing medicine.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

A car drives up to an intersection, stops, starts, hesitates, stops again. The cross traffic is terrific, and the driver isn't getting a break.

Seconds later, the car immediately behind him honks his horn. Instantly, the waiting cars held up by their hesitant leader, break into raucous honking. Their drivers begin to snap and snarl or roar like hungry lions just before their feeding.

The leading car starts into the traffic, taking a chance rather than to brave the heartless anger and indignation of his followers.

Suddenly there is a loud crash, calls for the police, the ambulance, wrecked cars and injured bodies.

A later investigation shows that the hesitant driver was a beginner.

"Why!" the arrogant drivers of the other cars demand. "Why was this beginner permitted to drive on a busy street?"

May I ask you, my impatient friends, how did YOU learn to drive on a busy street? With paper and pencil? By imagination?

There comes a time in the training of every new driver when he takes the wheel alone. No matter how long he has been in training, how proficient he may be, he is going to be nervous and hesitant.

Weren't you? Or did you handle your car with all the skill and self confidence that you have today, after ten, or fifteen, or twenty years of driving?

And does the fact that you are now a good driver give you the privilege of badgering, threatening, and abusing a beginner just to save a few seconds of time that can mean very little to you, but may mean the difference between life and death for the novice, the occupants of his car, and those of the one with which he may collide.

Does being behind a wheel give you the right to cast off all human decency and fair play and act worse than a wild beast?

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them! • Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. See Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Q. If a woman is seated when she received an introduction to a man, should she rise?
 A. She remains seated if she prefers to do so. Some women regard it as more cordial to rise.

Q. When corn on the cob is served at dinner, should both hands be used to hold it?
 A. No; only one hand is necessary.

Q. Should a player or his caddy smooth over holes or foot-marks in a bunker on the golf course?
 A. The player. The caddy should not enter the bunker.

Q. Would it be all right for a bride to have acknowledgments of her wedding gifts engraved?
 A. No; the bride should write personal notes of acknowledgment which show a sincere appreciation. Otherwise, her donors will regret having wasted their time and money.

Q. If a toast is proposed, does the person who is being toasted drink from his glass?
 A. No.

Q. What position does the salad plate occupy on the dinner table?
 A. It may be placed either at the right or left of the diner.

Q. Is it obligatory that a bride and bridegroom have a maid-of-honor and a best man?
 A. No; but the presence of two witnesses is traditional and is seldom disregarded.

Q. How much should one tip porters on trains?
 A. To sleeping car porters, it is correct to give 25 or 50 cents for a day. For a berth, a tip of 50 cents is customary.

Q. In whose name should the wedding invitations and announcements be issued, if the girl's parents are not living?
 A. In the name of an uncle and aunt, brother or sister, or some close and older relative. If there is none, then simply word the invitations, "Miss Ruth Johnson and Mr. Harry Brown request the honor of your presence at their wedding, etc."

Q. How does one bid good-by?

A murder case held in Woodstock's circuit court in 1932 is now before the United States Supreme court which judicial body has deterred decision on a demand for new trials for Donald Loftus who was sentenced to life terms for two McHenry county bank robberies. Loftus, known as the "Lone Wolf," because he always walked alone in his spectacular crime career, complained that he was not properly represented by defense counsel at trials in McHenry county circuit court. Loftus was convicted in 1932 on four indictments, two charging robbery with a gun at the First National Bank of Marengo, and the Algonquin State bank. The other indictments made burglary charges based on the same hold-ups. Loftus was sentenced on each conviction to serve from one year to life, the terms to run consecutively. Loftus claims he had defense counsel at his first two trials for bank robberies but had none at the last two trials for burglaries. The supreme court, in an unsigned opinion ordered the case continued until it can be "advised without ambiguity" whether the Illinois Supreme Court, in upholding the convictions of Loftus, rested its judgment on an adequate independent state ground or whether a decision was necessary on a claim of Loftus that he was denied rights under the fourteenth amendment requirement for due process of law.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

By F. J. FREEMAN

July 6th-12th (1947)—This Sunday Cornelia and I started on a short trip to the Porcupine Mountain State Park in the upper peninsula of Michigan. We dropped the boys off at a scout camp at Oconomowoc and continued on. Were fortunate in finding a state camping area on the Wolf river just north of the settlement of Lily on state route No. 55. We camped on the inside of the bend of the river, which at that point is black and swift, under a stand of mixed pine and hardwoods.

After cooking our supper over a fire, we spread our sleeping bags on the ground without putting up a tent. As we settled down to sleep about ten o'clock two owls flew into the pines overhead. We could see their silhouettes against the late twilight. I squeaked at them like a mouse, and in a flash they both dove at us. One swooped to the right over our faces when he discovered his mistake, and the other braked with a flapping of wings and flew off to the left. It was all so sudden that we ducked, and my wife said, "Don't you dare do that again." It turned quite cold that night, and in the early morning we awoke to see a heavy fog flowing down the river lit by late moonlight. It was eerily beautiful.

When we got further north up into the peninsula, we were struck by the splashes of color of the tawny hawkweed, tall buttercup and daisies which taken over the fields. It was a thing of beauty but did the hay fields no good. Went up through Bruce's Crossing, Rockland and Ontonagon where we turned west to the Porcupines. Made our camp on the shore of Lake Superior under a stand of tall hemlocks. The long evenings after supper were very cool, and we wiled away the time looking for agates and pretty stones.

On the lake in front of the camps we could always see loons, and quite often on the shore and along the roads we could see ravens. The day after our arrival we hiked up to the popular lookout overlooking the Lake of the Clouds and then hiked two miles along the escarpment. Coming up through the beech-maple forest we found the black-throated blue warbler and the red-eyed vireo to be the most common birds. On the escarpment we saw two ravens and two or three chestnut-sided warblers.

The next day we hiked back to Mirror Lake about nine miles over the mountains and along a beautiful moss and fern grown gorge running with water. On this trip through the forest we saw Tennessee, Blackburnian, black-throated blue and green warblers, juncos, ruffed grouse, purple finch and ovenbirds as well as the ever-present monotonous aforementioned vireo. We also heard the winter wren, olive-backed thrush and pileated woodpeckers. And also saw the many tracks of bear that walked the trails with us! We hoped to see the osprey at Mirror Lake but missed them. On another trip through cut over areas we found many white-throated sparrows, black-billed cuckoos, sapsuckers, red-breasted grosbeaks, Canada, chestnut-sided and mourning warblers, and olive-backed thrush. All told in the Porcupine area we identified fifty-four species in three days.

July 16th—Up to the Barrington slough to see if any early egrets have arrived. There were none, but saw families of Canada goose, teal, coot, grebe and gallinule.

July 20th—Up to Deer Grove and Barrington slough again. Still no egrets but saw greater yellowlegs and "peeps." The shore birds are starting to migrate south already.

July 25th—Saw a wood duck with eight fairly well grown young in a marsh in the Elk Grove preserve today. Heard a young bird peeping in the woods today and found myself being encircled by a female indigo bunting who was soon joined by her mate, and was he in a blue fury! His racket attracted a yellowthroat to the scene, and I felt as outcast as an owl.

July 31st—This evening we drove to Deer Grove for blackberries and counted a flock of about fifty crows flying to what will be their winter roost. Went on up to Barrington to look for egrets. I regret: no egret.

Now is the time to spray flies

The words of the once popular song "Johnny Get Your Gun" could be rearranged a little this week to put it in the tune and tempo with our local fly fighting campaign.

The re-written verse could well say "Johnny's got his gun and it's loaded with DDT." And Susie, Dad and Mother have been doing some of the gun-toting too.

Fly campaign leaders say that the fly-free program has moved into high gear with widespread spraying operations already carried out in some areas. Splendid cooperation has been shown on the cleanup phase that has been concluded. Spraying with DDT about the household premises and on the farms now gets the call.

Now is the time to really make the DDT spray gun pay for itself as the late spring flies begin to lay siege on your haven of rest. H. B. Petty, extension entomologist, University of Illinois and State Natural History Survey, observes "there are comparatively few houseflies buzzing around now. And, though there may be but few flies, this is the time to make the best use of the spraying program."

"It's the old adage of 'an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure'."

He explained that when the flies get into the millions, it becomes more difficult to get complete control. The more flies killed now, the fewer that will have to be killed later in the season.

Local committees have printed leaflets that describe the best ways to get rid of the flies. Or, see your local county farm or home adviser for information.

Child hurt in fall as horse stumbles

Nancy Martin, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Martin, Ferry Hill farms, Libertyville was injured Monday afternoon after falling from a horse. Nancy was riding the horse which stumbled when one foot went in a hole. Nancy and the horse fell to the ground and the horse kicked, a hoof striking Nancy's left side. The child rolled away from the horse and was found by a passerby. She was taken to Condell Memorial hospital where a number of stitches were required to close her wound.

What's time to a hog?

The old saw, "What's time to a hog?" may sound funny. But it's not funny if a corn-belt hog producer has to keep hogs from 8 to 12 months to get them ready for market or to try to find a satisfactory market.

A certain proportion of the feed eaten by a hog each day goes to maintain weight that is already there. The rest of the feed is used for growth and gains in weight. So it stands to reason that the longer a hog is kept on the farm, the greater will be the investment in maintenance. And, as the pig increases in weight, a larger proportion of the feed he eats will be used for maintenance.

H. G. Russell, University of Illinois livestock extension specialist, points out that younger hogs make the most efficient use of feed and eat more in proportion to their weight than do the older, heavier hogs.

Russell recommends a minimum of 16 percent protein in the ration for healthy pigs fed on pasture from weaning until they reach 75 pounds. Then the protein requirement drops to 14 or 15 percent. A ration suggested for this period includes 300 pounds shelled corn, 100 pounds fine ground oats, and 100 pounds 40-percent protein supplement. If your pigs will eat the feeds in these proportions from a self-feeder, that is the most satisfactory way to do it, Russell says. Allow one opening of the feeder for every 4 or 5 pigs.

Dinner Bell program salutes anniversary

The wedding march was played again for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schwartz of Bloomington, when they were guests on the Prairie Farmer-WLS Dinner Bell program in Chicago. They were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary and in keeping with the Dinner Bell program's tradition, Mrs. Schwartz had to ring one of the big dinner bells.

Are YOU Going Thru CHANGE of LIFE?

causing you to suffer from HOT FLUSHES?

Does the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women (38-52 yrs.) make you suffer from hot flushes, feel so nervous, high-strung, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this!

Taken regularly — Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such "middle-age" distress. It's what Doctors call a uterine sedative. It positively contains no opiates — no habit-forming drugs. Pinkham's Compound helps nature (you know what we mean). It's also a great stomachic tonic! Any drugstore.

Iced sweet corn, sold fresh, appears best for summer

Last year's tests prove worth

"One of the first vegetable crops to be worked with under the appropriation in the Hope-Flanagan Act on marketing will be sweet corn in Cook County," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "Last year you may recall some tests were run on pre-cooling sweet corn and studying consumer acceptance in two A&P stores. These tests were run on the Martin Beer and Wm. Beckner farms.

"The method used on the Martin Beer farm seemed to be preferable from the producer's point of view and apparently delivered the consumer as good corn as water pre-cooling. The stores indicated that their consumer acceptance of this sweet corn was much better than corn that had been run through their warehouses and reached the consumer after it had been harvested and not kept cool.

"It is thought that this method deserves expansion in this market and after numerous conferences it has been decided that a man will be put in Cook County, beginning July 1st, to work with the retail trade, and especially with producers, to secure a better marketing of sweet corn in this area.

"THE METHOD used to harvest this corn is to pull the corn early in the morning while it has the night's coolness in it, put it in a sack and tie sacks up in a tight truck with chilled ice in between. The truck was then covered with a tarpaulin and taken directly to the store where it was displayed as fresh sweet corn. This seemed to be as good as the method where sweet corn was dumped in cold water tanks and cooled down after it had been harvested in the heat of the day. Certainly the job is much easier for the producer.

"Mr. Milton Guither has been employed by Mr. E. C. Secor, Director of Markets for the State Department of Agriculture, who will work cooperatively with the University of Illinois, Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes, the State Department of Agriculture and call on farmers to interest them in this method of marketing sweet corn. Through Mr. Harold Templeton of the Illinois Chain Store Council, stores who will cooperate will take this sweet corn and market it. It is anticipated that a premium will be paid farmers over and above the premium for regular marketing.

"Mr. Guither's job will be to interest growers and get them to go directly to stores that will so handle our sweet corn crop. He will not be employed in the county full time but at this particular time he will be here for a week or two to line up as many growers as possible. It is anticipated that many growers who have a regular outlet through a store, at the present time, will continue that same outlet but on a basis that will insure the consumer a better grade of sweet corn, and secure the farmer a better price.

"We request growers to let us know if they are interested in

Farmers Make Running Water Pay Own Way; Hand Pumping Outmoded

Irrigation systems provide farmers with insurance against those hot summer days when you wonder if "it will ever rain again."

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Plenty of fresh water—delivered when and where you want it, is no longer a vain hope for the future. It's possible to get that kind of service today on electrified farms. And, what's more, to make the "hired hand"—in this case, the pressure water system—pay the bill.

Because pressure systems deliver water automatically, they eliminate the many hours spent in pumping and carrying water for farm and home purposes. Ever consider how much water you use in a day? Here are some average dairy requirements: 25 gallons per person, 15 per cow, 10 per horse, 2 per hog, 1 1/2 per sheep, 4 per 100 chickens. For household use alone, a farm wife carries 20 tons of water a year. That's a lot of time and effort wasted on a pump handle and a pail.

What can you do with the time saved? You might increase your milking herds, poultry flocks and feeding cattle. Or you can just take life a little easier.

Three farmers, who wanted a return on their water system investments, did it this way: A dairyman added two milking cows. An adequate year-round supply of water helped his cows step up production. The result: An increase of about $400 in his annual milk check. A poultry operator used his spare time to increase his flock by more than 1,000 chickens; a beef farmer put 30 more cattle on feed. Their "spare time" work paid off, too. The poultryman's annual gross income increased by more than $1,000, the beef farmer's gross income by over $1,300.

Pressure water systems also make irrigation possible. How that water is delivered to gardens, crops, pastures or orchards depends on individual preference, supply of water available and type of soil to be irrigated. Water may be (1) sprayed over the surface, (2) permitted to trickle out of eyelet hoses and perforated pipes, or (3) delivered to crops by means of flooding or through furrows or open ditches.

LAW on the FARM

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

One of the earliest laws passed by the Illinois legislature to aid the orderly marketing and distribution of farm products was an act passed in 1899 "to regulate the shipping, consigning and sale of produce, fruits, vegetables, butter, eggs, poultry, or other products of property, and to license and regulate commission merchants and to create a board of inspectors and to prescribe its powers and duties." The purpose of this law is to provide such control over the activities of persons and organizations licensed to receive and sell farm produce that fraud and loose practice will be prevented.

In a case involving this act, the Illinois appellate court stated that it "... is intended to protect a large class of people engaged in agricultural pursuits, more or less remote from market, from imposition and actual fraud when entrusting their products for sale to the hands of commission men, located at commercial centers."

By the provisions of this law commission merchants are required to procure an annual license, furnish a bond and keep complete records of consignments and sales. The state director of agriculture is charged with the administration of this law and may maintain a suit on a commission merchant's bond in favor of any injured shipper. Also a commission merchant's license may be revoked for fraud, incompetency or deceptive practice.

this plan so that Mr. Guither may make the very best use of his time while he is in the county."

Trout Fishing

Best bait for trout, when the water is cold, high or muddy, and they won't take flies, are worms and minnows. Worms should be allowed to drift naturally with the current, bumping along the bottom and tumbling into the spots where such food settles naturally. Minnows either may be drifted with the current or pulled against it. They should be fished deep. Big trout have a weakness for them.

Warm weather brings many egg problems

Summer temperatures find the Cook county poultryman faced with several problems, according to Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes.

The first big problem is keeping the quality of eggs at top grade. Culling eggs after gathering, and gathering them several times a day helps to keep up the quality.

Another problem is how to take care of the older hens with pullets coming on. Temporary laying houses can be provided for the older hens now that warm weather is here and the hens can be moved without upsetting their egg production.

Mr. Hughes reminds poultrymen that constant culling of older layers is necessary if efficient production is to be maintained. Culling can be done by "sight." A poor layer or a bird almost out of production has a limp, mottled, dull-looking comb. A good layer in any breed has a waxy red comb that is pliable and large.

The cull or poor-laying hen is not a sick bird and is often the best "eating" bird on the range, having used much of its feed for fat and flesh instead of eggs. By proper culling, the poultryman can't lose. He gains the good eaters for the table and gets the most eggs from the good layers for the least cost in feed.

Ayreshire breeders hold annual meeting

The Illinois State Ayreshire Breeders' association held its annual summer picnic at the Curtiss candy company farm headquarters Saturday at Cary. Otto Schnering, president of Curtiss candy company, and Mrs. Schnering were hosts at the luncheon for approximately 100 breeders from both Illinois and Wisconsin who attended.

In addition to a demonstration of clipping and presenting animal for cattle shows, using Curtiss show herd animals for models, the program included judging demonstrations and addresses by C. T. Conklin, secretary of the Ayreshire Breeders' Association of Brandon, Vermont; Prof. C. S. Rhode and Prof. E. E. Ormiston of the University of Illinois. Elroy Danneveit of Somonauk, is president of the state association and George W. Schroeder of Cloverdale, is secretary.

Amputee vets must apply by June 30 for special cars

Two important dates for World War II veterans are at hand. Veterans who are leg amputees have until June 30, 1948 to make application for free automobiles. The autos cannot cost in excess of $1,600.

Probably the most important deadline approaching is July 31. On that date the last opportunity to reinstate National Service Life Insurance without a physical examination will be at hand.

By paying two premiums, at the same rate as the serviceman paid while in the armed forces, and filing of an affidavit that the health of the applicant is as good as at the time of the lapsing of the insurance, reinstatement can be made.

Service officers of the Illinois Veterans commission in all of the 102 counties of the state have received instructions and have been urged to make every effort to inform veterans in their respective territories of these important dates.

In Cook county the service officer is Walter S. Haynes. The Illinois Veterans commission office is located at 41 South Prospect ave., in Park Ridge, Illinois.
